

Splendid Program Presented Rotary --Barron Leader

W. S. Barron was in charge of the program at the Rotary Club luncheon at the Green Parrot Tea Room on Wednesday noon. After some songs led by S. Moylan Bird and E. P. Humbert, and introduction of visitors the program was turned over to Barron. He had prepared a good program too and it was listened to with keen interest.

He launched into his classification talk on "abstracting" and told some very interesting things about that business. He said that an "abstract" as a history to a title of land. He said that an abstract would go back to the old Spanish grants of land or Mexican grants, in parts of Texas to white colonies, who were offered this land to come here and settle the country. The portion of which Brazos county is a part was granted to Stephen F. Austin and abstracts go back to that grant of the long ago.

He read one application for land under the grant as a sample of the old forms and what had to be done to secure a title. He closed by saying that he liked abstracting because it gave him an opportunity to go back into the history of the county, gave him an insight into the tragedies of life, the romances through the marriage records and the contrary on the divorce records, and it showed the industrial epochs by mortgages on land, either contracted for or paid off.

College suggests to farmers to better agricultural conditions.

He also dwelt on the poultry industry and said that if we had developed a poultry business as we should have, we could overlook the drought and the economic results of it and make the Brazos Bottom ashamed of itself.

T. T. Wallis, representing the Veterans' Bureau, spoke next and gave a resume of re-habilitation work of the government, explaining how disabled soldiers were given vocational training and put through one year of their project. He brought this to a local point by showing the work of A. and M. and paying a tribute to this institution.

Two Killed When Fast Train Hit A Car At Crossing

J. A. O'Connor of this city received a telephone message this morning announcing a tragic automobile accident last night at about 6:00 o'clock at Muenster, Texas, 80 miles north of Fort Worth, in which two of his relatives by marriage were instantly killed. Mrs. A. G. Stelzer and daughter, Miss Evaline, were the two who were killed. Another daughter, Anna Margaret, four years-old, was badly bruised but her injuries are not considered fatal. While details were meagre over the telephone, it seems that the car struck at a railroad crossing by a fast Wichita Falls-Fort Worth train on the M. K. and T.

Mr. O'Connor left on the noon train for Muenster where the funeral services will be held on Thursday for the two victims. The relationship of the families are that Mr. O'Connor's sister, Helen, who formerly lived in Bryan, married Mart Stelzer, the son and brother of the two who were killed. Matt Stelzer visited in Bryan only last week.

McAdams President City Managers

Just prior to adjournment on Tuesday afternoon, the Texas League of Municipalities, meeting in annual convention in Waco, passed unanimously two resolutions. The first was in favor of movie censorship in Texas and the other favored home rule for cities of less than 5,000 population the same as for larger cities, as is now the case. Corpus Christi was selected as the meeting place for the League in 1926.

At the league convention a new organization was formed as the Texas City Managers Association which will meet each year as a part of the League, but with separate officers. A movement to elect E. E. McAdams, formerly city manager of Bryan but now in similar capacity at Waco, was successful.

Seventy Cities Members.
Mayor W. D. Holcombe of San Angelo, chairman of the nominating committee, submitted the following for officers and these were elected: President, J. A. Barnes, Beaumont; vice president, Harry Mason, Vernon; Tom Justiss, Paris; R. C. Johnston, Waxahachie. These will select their own secretary.

The report of Secretary R. D. Jackson showed that there are 70 cities represented in the league, with 57 of these fully paid up as to dues.

There was a good deal of discussion of plans for keeping up the finances of the league, and incoming President J. A. Barnes declared the organization must be maintained on an effective basis. Talks praising the work of the league also were made by Harry Mason of Vernon, Mr. Holland of Nacogdoches, and others.

Miller Returns Home.
City Manager J. Bryan Miller returned on the morning train from Waco where he attended the League convention and participated in the organization of the city manager. He was one of the leaders in the boom for McAdams and instrumental in his election to the presidency of the Association.

Mr. Miller had many words of praise for the hospitality of the city of Waco, which had provided for sight-seeing trips over the city and to points of interest in that vicinity. He attended the big Rotary banquet on Monday noon. The papers that were read and the addresses that were made were very instructive and Mr. Miller was glad to state that they were prepared and presented in such a way that the average delegate could understand them. They were not too technical nor too detailed.

Mostly On Sanitation.
The meeting passed off with dispatch said Mr. Miller, and there was no idle time. It was handled very well.

Green Parrot Is Sold By Nall's To Mrs. Wilson

A business transaction involving a consideration of $4,000 has just been consummated in Bryan whereby the ownership of the Green Parrot Tea Room changes hands. Mrs. M. G. Nall has sold the business, fixtures, equipment and good will to Mrs. Dora E. Wilson who took over the place on Thursday afternoon and will henceforth conduct the institution, endeavoring, she said, to continue the splendid management inaugurated by Mr. and Mrs. Nall and maintained by them in the conduct of the place.

Mrs. Nall states that she and her daughter, Mary Jane, expected to leave this afternoon for Greenville, North Carolina, accompanied by her father, W. M. Wheeler, who spent the winter here. Mrs. Nall and daughter will spend the summer in the Carolinas, both North and South, visiting relatives. Mr. Nall will remain in Bryan for the summer, according to present plans but will go to Carolina in the fall to bring them back.

The Green Parrot Tea Room has enjoyed a most successful patronage under the management of the Nalls and even greater measure of success is predicted for Mrs. Dora E. Wilson, by her many friends. The Nalls are from a pioneer family in Bryan and their circle of acquaintance is also their circle of friends. There are many who will regret to see them relinquish the ownership of this institution, yet who wish them well in anything they may undertake.

ANONYMOUS LETTERS

Unsigned letters, evidently written in a handwriting intended to hide the identity of the writer, are a frequent thing in a newspaper office. An unusual thing is that an article recently written proved to be the theme of two letters of exactly opposite character. One was a lengthy letter of commendation and praise and was signed by a man of prominence in this county. The other was a letter, written in a very poor handwriting and almost illegible, with improper spelling. But the spirit was one of condemnation throughout. The purpose of the latter letter was to be a man and lower the character of a party to whom tribute was paid in the article in question.

The Eagle is glad to receive communications from the public so that it can learn the view-points of the general public and the attitudes of its readers. But it has no sympathy for and much less use for the man who will write letters of condemnation and then hasn't the backbone to sign his name to it. Every man is entitled to his opinion but the man who won't stand back of his views is a "weak sister" indeed.

The man who has a broad enough mind to praise where deserved is the kind of a man who doesn't hesitate to sign any article he may write or to back up anything he might say of another. It is the man who is always looking for another's faults who fears to put it in black and white over a signature and who is ready to swap sides when confronted with any opposition. He is usually the man who has far more faults of his own than the party he is trying to be mean.

The Eagle is glad to get letters but doesn't want to be pestered with letters from spineless individuals like those. We want real letters from real men who have the nerve to back up their convictions. Sign your letters, in all probability your name won't be printed anyway—the public would not know the anonymous writer—if it were published.

A MOTHER'S LEGACY.

An American woman leaves a will bequeathing all her property to her children. The property is not much, only a few hundred dollars and some personal articles. But the will itself is valuable. It might be called a legacy to all bereaved persons.

"Don't keep any of my personal belongings just because they were mine," she wrote. "They are just things, and worn and shabby at that. Love doesn't need such things for remembrance."

"I won't be separated from any of you. I'll be able to love you with all my heart, and without anything in that love that will make you feel as if I wanted to control or bother you."

"Bury my body as cheaply as you can and forget it. Don't wear mourning. And think of me as alive, alive beyond your farthest thought, and near, and loving you, and well at last, free as the winds of heaven, and learning more and more the things I want to know and growing more as I want to grow."

"Love one another. Hold fast to that, whether you understand one another or not. And remember nothing really matters except being kind to one another and to all the world as far as you can reach."

It does seem odd, after reading words of pure gold like these, to think of the things people do so often in their grief, and the things they consider important when the immediate grief is past.

COMMENCEMENT SEASON.

The Eagle is indebted to three local educational institutions for Commencement Invitations, the first being from the A. and M. College with the card of President William Bennett Bizzell enclosed. It reads as follows: "The faculty and Graduating Class of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas request the honor of your presence during the Forty-ninth Annual Commencement Exercises, May 31, June 1 and 2, 1925, College Station, Texas." The second reads: "The Faculty and Graduating Class of Villa Maria Academy, Bryan, Texas, cordially invite you to be present at their Commencement Exercises, Friday morning, May 28th, at 10 o'clock," and the third: "Commencement Exercises, Bryan High School on Friday morning, May twenty-ninth, nineteen hundred and twenty-five, High School Auditorium with the card of Miss Laura Elliott Beason enclosed."

AMERICAN FOREST WEEK.

American Forest Week has been set aside by Presidential Proclamation as a time to bring to the attention of the American people the facts concerning the vast and unnecessary wastage of our forests by fire, wasteful manufacturing operations, and failure to keep America's forest land at work growing tree crops. The Governors of many states have issued proclamations supplementing the ones issued by President Coolidge.

American Forest Week is an outgrowth of Forest Protection Week which originated on the Pacific Coast six years ago. It quickly grew to national proportions, and in 1921 President Harding issued a Proclamation which placed the Federal Government in particular, squarely behind the movement. President Harding issued a Proclamation again in 1922 and 1923. Last year President Coolidge issued a Proclamation.

President Coolidge this year issued a Proclamation broadening the scope of the annual campaign to include all phases of America's forest problems, changing the name to American Forest Week.

American Forest Week is a national affair. It is not an exclusive party for any one single organization, public or private. On the contrary, it is actively participated in by organizations interested in industry, in outdoor life, in game and wild life, in water resources, and in economics.

IN RIGHT DIRECTION.

Brazos is fundamentally an agricultural county and the crop conditions are a barometer on the financial condition, almost without exception. Therefore, everything that can be done to foster increased per acre production and greater diversification, as well as soil improvement, in this county, will bring greater prosperity.

A step in the right direction has been taken by the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce in offering $460 in different premiums for agriculture. This supplemented by a similar worthy movement on the part of J. Webb Howell in offering $250, makes a total of $710 that will be given to farmers of Brazos county this year for crops. This will be in addition to the increased price that a better crop will bring in the open market. We are gradually finding what things will bring improvement and stressing them in preference to the things that are but of temporary importance.

The Bryan Daily Eagle has reduced the size of its head which improves its appearance.—Gilmer Mirror.

We thank you, Mirror, for "them" kind words. Few words of praise enter the life of an editor and those few are not only welcomed but treasured. Let us say here that we are not resting on our achievements, if they may be called such, but will endeavor to continue to improve the appearance, the quality and the "quantity" of our publication as best we can and as fast as economic conditions warrant. We want to serve our readers in the best possible way, and our advertisers as well. We believe we have made some head way and appreciate the fact having attracted the attention of a fellow-editor.

DID YOU KNOW.

The agricultural, live stock, mineral and other natural resources of Texas produce about 7 per cent of the raw material of the United States. This amounts to approximately $1,000,000,000 annually. Texas is far ahead of the other States of the Union as a producer of agricultural and live stock products.

Some of the products in 1924 were:

Corn, 78,000,000 bushels, valued at $86,000,000.
Wheat, 25,000,000 bushels, valued at $34,000,000.
Oats, 44,000,000 bushels, valued at $29,000,000.
Sorghum, 45,000,000 bushels, valued at $39,500,000.
Hay, 884,000 tons, valued at $141,790,000.
Potatoes, 6,600,000 bushels, valued at $11,000,000.
Rice, 5,600,000 bushels, valued at $6,670,000.
Peanut, 3,000,000 bushels, valued at $4,440,000.
Onions, 2,100,000 bushels, valued at $3,263,000.

HONOR OF FIRST COTTON BLOOM TO AN UPLAND FARM

To Arnold Stevenson of Kurten, who farms the John Beard farm in that community goes the honor of having produced the first known cotton bloom in Brazos county in 1925. He discovered the bloom in his field on Saturday. There may have been other before this one, but were not noticed if there were any previous ones. The cotton was planted on March the fifth.

Brazos County Club Members Given A Treat

The members of the Boys' and Girls' Clubs of Brazos County were the invited guests of District Agent A. W. Buchanan, who has been changed from District No. 2, which includes Brazos county to district Number 6, from his position with the Extension Service Department of the A. and M. College, County Agent C. L. Beason and County Home Demonstration Agent Miss Abbie Sevier, at a party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan in the eastern part of the city on Saturday afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock. The community of Edge, Tabor and Kurten were unusually well represented. Songs and club yells and contests marked the program. In a cake had been placed a dime, a button and a tooth pick. To the one who cut the dime, Miss Eula Beth Locke, was given a pound box of candy, the feature prize. Miss Fannie Locke cut the button, winning the thimble given for this place and Estelle Armstrong won the tube of tooth paste for cutting the tooth-pick, Tabor thus winning all three prizes.

New District Agent.

District Agent A. W. Buchanan made a brief talk to the boys and girls announcing his retirement as district agent of Brazos County and introduced the new district agent, George W. Johnson, who stated that he wanted to know each and every one of them personally and to do all that he could to advance their work in every way possible.

The refreshments consisted of ice cream and cake and had been provided for an attendance of a hundred or 200 people. There were but 50 or 75 present but the refreshments disappeared so rapidly that those responsible for the occasion began to fear for some of the consuming party.

Among the visitors present were: Dr. W. F. Odum, Mrs. Will Henderson and Mrs. Henry Kurten all of Kurten; Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Short, Miss Mildred Horton and George W. Johnson, as well as A. W. Buchanan, County Agent C. L. Beason and Miss Abbie Sevier of the Extension Service; City Manager E. E. McAdams of Waco, S. E. Eberstadt, Miss Mary Locke and Assistant State Agent R. W. Persons.

Willis on the 9th and 10th chapters of the book we are studying, "The Life of Paul." After the lesson the hostess passed a plate of ice cream and cake. The following were present: Mesdames C. A. Lewis, Josie Lawrence, R. B. Welch, J. C. Davidson, M. B. Willis, J. B. Priddy, E. J. Jenkins, Bessie Lawrence, S. E. Eberstadt, and Miss Lillie Hall; and one visitor, Mrs. D. J. McDonald.

Visitors were Mrs. J. F. Jones and Mrs. O. O. Henderson.

FOR WORKING PEOPLE.

The best of workers get out of sorts when the liver fails to act. They feel languid, half-sick, "blue" and discouraged and think they are getting lazy. Neglect of these symptoms might result in a sick spell, therefore the sensible course is to take a dose or two of Herbine. It is just the medicine needed to purify the system and restore the vim and ambition of health. Price 60c. Sold by JENKIN'S DRUG STORE.—Adv.

Hadley Reports Pythian Convention

George E. Hadley left last Thursday afternoon by an indirect route to go to Brownwood to attend the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias. He went first to Caldwell to attend a meeting of the chapter there and says that the meeting was one of the largest local lodges that he has attended in several years. Eight candidates were being initiated into the rank of "Esquire." He continued his journey then as far as Cameron with Mose G. Cox. Spending the night in Cameron, a party of five left that city on Sunday morning by car. After they left Belton they struck the rain and mud clear to Brownwood.

The country we traveled thru, said Mr. Hadley, is of scenery the most beautiful, as fine a sight as one could wish to see. We arrived at Brownwood at 5:30 in the afternoon and were quartered in the Southern Hotel where representatives and special committeemen had already begun to arrive.

Barbecue Dinner.

Mr. Hadley is chairman of the committee on state of the order, the first and most important committee in the grand lodge and his committee went right to work. The results of the labors was attested by the extended and elaborate praise given it when brought before the convention. Others on the committee were M. G. Cox of Dallas and Harry E. Gordon of Dallas.

The convention was called to order on Tuesday morning by

Grand Chancellor Charles E. Baughman, and after the address of welcome and the delivery of the keys of the city of Brownwood to the K. of P. Visitors, the delegation present at the session were told that no one of their membership would be arrested during their stay in Brownwood no matter what they did.

On Tuesday afternoon we were given a barbecue chicken dinner with all accessories, said Mr. Hadley. This was under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and there was every accessory and every delicacy that one could wish and one of the best barbecue dinners ever held in Texas, he added. It was a credit to the city to put on such a dinner and the diners certainly did it justice.

Bryan Refused Offer.

We were asked if Bryan wanted the place for the convention city in 1926 and seeing that Brownwood was not a large enough city to adequately take care of the great number of visitors, approximately 2,000, we said no. While the City of Brownwood and its people were supreme in their courtesy and willingness, there was just not enough facilities in the town, even in the hotels and private homes that were thrown open, to care for so many folks. Three large auditoriums are required for the grand lodge convocation.

The happiest moment in the life of retiring Grand Chancellor Charles Baughman was when the necessary funds were given to him to pay off the indebtedness on the Pythian home at Weatherford, the cash and pledges received being sufficient to care for the debts outstanding. A special feature of the convention was the 17 girls from the Home that composed the mandolin group and were there as living examples of the great work being done in the Pythian Home. Seven of them were graduates of this year.

Gammon Was Delegate.

The Pythian Home is affiliated with all schools of higher education, including the State University. The alumni association of this school is making it possible for the graduates to secure higher education through the fostering and supplying of finances for a student loan fund.

The convention was most successful one in every particular, said Mr. Hadley, and there was perfect harmony throughout. It closed with the election of Max Krauskopf of Pecos as Grand Chancellor Commander of Texas, and B. W. Steele of Houston and W. S. Lemley of Temple as Supreme Committee, J. E. Gammon was the official delegate from the Bryan lodge to Brownwood. He took the D. O. K. K. degree there.

Dr. and Mrs. John A. Held have returned from attending the annual meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention at Memphis, Tennessee.

Miss Adelle Hall spent Sunday at Steep Hollow with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Hall.

THREE ICE PLANTS IN CITY—ONE FLOWER POT

It is a singular statement that in Bryan and only two ice factories. This is due to the fact that only two of them make real ice—which is only artificial ice after all—and one of them makes an artificial ice that is only an imitation in appearance and wouldn't freeze milk or cool a beer. The third plant of which reference is made is to an "ice plant" that is growing in a flower pot at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Parks of this city. It is a very pretty plant and on the exterior surface of the stem and leaves is a composition, presumably formed from material or matter of the plant itself, which has every indication of frost having been formed from drops of water. There's a touch of red in the very center of the bunch of leaves of each stem. The whole is quite pretty.

Bryan Party Off To Conference At Grapeland

The Navasota District Conference opened at Grapeland Monday night, May 18th, and will continue through Wednesday. The local church is accorded 8 delegates to this meeting. Those who were to make the trip were: E. J. Jenkins, president Board of Stewards; C. E. Jenkins, Miss Mabel Zimmerman, R. C. Franks, Oak McKenzie, Mrs. J. N. Goodwin, Rev. D. J. McDonald and Dr. Jno. W. Black. Accompanying them will be Rev. H. H. McCain. Delegations also went from the Italian Methodist church in Bryan, headed by Rev. Bruno Martinelli and from the College Methodist church under Rev. Jesse C. Thompson. There will be 15 or 20 in all from this section at the conference.

Every year, in every district there is held a conference of pastors and delegates to meet and settle problems and questions that may arise as to church work or problems of organizations that are affiliated or co-ordinated with the general work of the church. The presiding elder is in charge and D. H. Hotchkiss of Huntsville, presiding elder of the Navasota district, will preside over the Grapeland conference. The party will return to Bryan and College on Thursday. Reverends McCain and Martinelli made the trip over by car, leaving Monday morning.

Rev. J. J. Pipkin Goes Under Knife

Rev. J. J. Pipkin, who has been quite ill at his home on College Road for the past several weeks, underwent a second operation at the Bryan hospital on Friday afternoon. Reports from his bedside on yesterday afternoon brought the good news that he was resting well. Today, he was able to be removed from the hospital to his home again, and his condition is reported as favorable. Many friends are hoping for the speedy recovery of this good man, who is sadly missed from his usual place of helpfulness in all affairs of the church, over Brazos county, which he has served so faithfully for the past several years as Associational Secretary.

Gus Stevener of Kurten was among the business visitors in the city today.

Harry Estill Wins High Record At Navasota Shoot

Quite a large delegation of Bryan men were present at the shoot Friday afternoon, also quite a number of women were out to witness the sport. Instead of taking 26 shots around nearly all of the participants shot 25 times, only a few holding a 25 round contest. C. R. Estill was high man in the contest between Bryan men, breaking 47 pigeons out of a possible 50. In the contest between Navasota men, Clarence Moore and T. H. Mackie tied for high place, each breaking 42 out of a possible 50.

Four Bryan men shot one round of doubles before the practice came to an end. Twenty-four pigeons were thrown, two at a time, for each man. High honors in doubles went to W. M. Wickes who broke 23 out of 24 shots. These shoots are held every Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the range a short distance from town. Everybody is invited to come and take part whether a club member or not. A special invitation is extended to the women to attend as spectators.

Consolidated School Thanks D.A.R. For Gift

"Please allow me to express, in behalf of the school, our sincere appreciation and thankfulness for the very beautiful gift that we received from the D. A. R. chapter, through your efforts, and the kindness of Mrs. D. B. Cofer in bringing it to us," writes Geo. B. Wilcox, superintendent of the A. and M. Consolidated School, in a letter to Mrs. J. H. Allen of Bryan, Regent of the William Scott Chapter, D. A. R. The letter continues: "The flag is very beautiful and so very large, too. The children are very happy that they have such good friends among the good people of Bryan. I am sure that they will have ample opportunity to consult the flag at various times during the year. Always it will be a reminder to them of their possibilities as citizens. Please let us thank you again for the beautiful gift and assure you that each and every member of our school joins me in thanking you for the gift. Please convey our message to the local chapter of the D. A. R.'s."

City Manager Is Attending Meet of Municipalities

City Manager J. Bryan Miller is in Waco today attending the thirteenth annual convention of the League of Texas Municipalities, representing the City of Bryan. The program began this morning at 9 o'clock at the Raleigh Hotel with an address by Mayor Tom Stone. The entertainment program includes a special Rotary luncheon to which the visitors are invited and to which Oswald Pettet of New York will deliver an address on the subject of playgrounds. The city and the Chamber of Commerce will also be hosts at the noon lunch. This evening the Texas city officials will be guests of the city and the Chamber of Commerce for dinner at the Raleigh, when former Governor Pat M. Neff will make the chief address. An automobile trip over the city is scheduled for the afternoon. The sessions close on Tuesday and Mr. Miller will return to Bryan Wednesday morning.

D. D. VASBINDER AND JACK BOONE WON THE CONTEST ON SATURDAY

The gold-prize contest being conducted at the E. E. Yeager Hardware Store resulted in the two-five-dollar prizes given on last Saturday being won by D. D. Vasbinder and Jack Boone.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Stallings of the Alexander community were visitors in Bryan today.

LOCAL HUNTER WEPT OVER HARE HE SHOT

The scope of the Ford has become universal and the tender heart of its Master, Henry, is spreading to all Ford dealers in the land, it would seem. One of the partners in the local Ford agency went hunting the other day. To really go hunting, one must shoot something—craps if nothing else—but he shot a rabbit—poetically termed "hare." Now it is a common occurrence to read about them "tearing their hair and weeping" but in this case it happened in real life. This Ford agent "tore that hair all to pieces and then wept." That rabbit, after taking into its system a charge of shot, turned over on its side and wailed so mournfully over its departing spirit that a hunter turned to his companion and sobbed, "If I'd known he was a-go'in' to cry like that I'd never have shot him."

Kurten Boys and Girls Club Held Splendid Meeting

The Kurten boys' and girls' agricultural club held a splendid meeting on Monday night in the new school auditorium, but one member of the "Cheerful Forty-Three" being absent from the total membership. Some unusually good reports were rendered and praised by the individual members as each one responded to roll call with a report on their project and its progress. The club officers officiated in a manner to the office accustomed and with a poise and ease that would be creditable in an adult.

Music for the evening was furnished by a trio of piano, violin and guitar, two negro players having been taken out to Kurten by County Agent C. L. Beason to live on the program. The audience certainly enjoyed the playing, the negroes being accompanied by their pleasurable labors by Miss Gussie Odum on the piano. They played such numbers as "After the Ball", "Turkey in the Straw", "Arkansas Traveler" and others of a more popular nature, interspersing the music by accompanying the songs with singing.

Two New Songs.

The club was addressed by County Agent C. L. Beason and Miss Abbie Sevier, county agents, and songs and yells were given, one of them being for Miss Sevier. A letter was read from Miss Laura Belle Roten, giving her remembrance to the club membership and expressing hope for their success in the work. Britten Henderson, who made the best report of the whole, closely seconded by his brother, lead the yells and introduced a new song. H. D. Cuykendall of the Bryan Daily Eagle gave a reading, following a few humorous remarks and a little talk on club work in general.

A closing song was taught the members of the club by Messrs. Beason and Cuykendall and the evening closed with more music by the trio.

Aftermath of Big Reunion Will Be Staged Navasota

For Navasota, the Confederate Reunion has an especial interest for the aftermath will be staged here. On May 23rd, immediately following the meeting in Dallas, about forty or fifty of the Veterans will assemble here for the unveiling of the monument erected over the grave of Mrs. Joseph Lutton, formerly Mrs. Nathan Forrest, mother of the General N. B. Forrest of Civil War fame. One of the prominent personages to be present at this time is General N. B. Forrest, 11, son of the famous general and grandson of Mrs. Lutton. With him will be his friend, H. W. Evans, who will make the main address at the unveiling. These veterans will be entertained in the homes of the daughters of the Confederacy and others who have offered their homes for this occasion. Those coming on Friday will be met and entertained in these homes on Friday night and served breakfast and those coming in early Saturday morning will also be served breakfast. At noon luncheon will be served by the Kiwanis Club and the Chamber of Commerce jointly in the Chamber of Commerce hall to all visitors and the Navasota Veterans. At two-thirty, the unveiling and address will take place at the Camp burying grounds. Saturday night, Mr. Evans will make a patriotic talk to the public at the City Park.—Navasota Examiner.

ANONYMOUS LETTERS

Unsigned letters, evidently written in a handwriting intended to hide the identity of the writer, are a frequent thing in a newspaper office. An unusual thing is that an article recently written proved to be the theme of two letters of exactly opposite character. One was a lengthy letter of commendation and praise and was signed by a man of prominence in this county. The other was a letter, written in a very poor handwriting and almost illegible, with improper spelling. But the spirit was one of condemnation throughout. The purpose of the latter letter was to be mean and lower the character of a party to whom tribute was paid in the article in question.

The Eagle is glad to receive communications from the public so that it can learn the viewpoints of the general public and the attitudes of its readers. But it has no sympathy for and much less use for the man who will write letters of condemnation and then hasn't the backbone to sign his name to it. Every man is entitled to his opinion but the man who won't stand back of his views is a "weak stater" indeed.

The man who has a broad enough mind to praise where deserved is the kind of a man who doesn't hesitate to sign any article he may write or to back up anything he might say of another. It is the man who is always looking for another's faults who fears to put it in black and white over a signature and who is ready to swap sides when confronted with any opposition. He is usually the man who has far more faults of his own than the party he is trying to be mean.

The Eagle is glad to get letters but doesn't want to be pestered with letters from spineless individuals like those. We want letters from real men who have the nerve to back up their convictions. Sign your letters, in all probability your name won't be printed anyway—the public would not know the anonymous writer—if it were published.

A MOTHER'S LEGACY.

An American woman leaves a will bequeathing all her property to her children. The property is not much, only a few hundred dollars and some personal articles. But the will itself is valuable. It might be called a legacy to all bereaved persons.

"Don't keep any of my personal belongings just because they were mine," she wrote. "They are just things, and worn and shabby at that. Love doesn't need such things for remembrance."

"I won't be separated from any of you. I'll be able to love you with all my heart, and without anything in that love that will make you feel as if I wanted to control or bother you."

"Bury my body as cheaply as you can and forget it. Don't wear mourning. And think of me as alive, alive beyond your farthest thought, and near, and loving you, and well at last, free as the winds of heaven, and learning more and more the things I want to know and growing more as I want to grow."

"Love one another. Hold fast to that, whether you understand one another or not. And remember nothing really matters except being kind to one another and to all the world as far as you can each."

It does seem odd, after reading words of pure gold like these, to think of the things people do so often in their grief, and the things they consider important when the immediate grief is past.

COMMENCEMENT SEASON.

The Eagle is indebted to three local educational institutions for Commencement Invitations, the first being from the A. and M. College with the card of President William Bennett Bizzell enclosed. It reads as follows: "The Faculty and Graduating Class of the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas request the honor of your presence during the Forty-ninth Annual Commencement Exercises, May 31, June 1 and 2, 1925, College Station, Texas." The second reads: "The Faculty and Graduating Class of Villa Maria Academy, Bryan, Texas, cordially invite you to be present at their Commencement Exercises, Friday morning, May 28th, at 10 o'clock," and the third: "Commencement Exercises, Bryan High School on Friday morning, May twenty-ninth, nineteen hundred and twenty-five, High School Auditorium with the card of Miss Laura Elliott Beason enclosed."

AMERICAN FOREST WEEK.

American Forest Week has been set aside by Presidential Proclamation as a time to bring to the attention of the American people the facts concerning the vast and unnecessary wastage of our forests by fire, wasteful manufacturing operations, and failure to keep America's forest land at work growing tree crops. The Governors of many states have issued proclamations supplementing the one issued by President Coolidge.

American Forest Week is an outgrowth of Forest Protection Week which originated on the Pacific Coast six years ago. It quickly grew to national proportions, and in 1921 President Harding issued a Proclamation which placed the Federal Government in particular, squarely behind the movement. President Harding issued a Proclamation again in 1922 and 1923. Last year President Coolidge issued a Proclamation.

President Coolidge this year issued a Proclamation broadening the scope of the annual campaign to include all phases of America's forest problems, changing the name to American Forest Week.

American Forest Week is a national affair. It is not an exclusive party for any one single organization, public or private. On the contrary, it is actively participated in by organizations interested in industry, in outdoor life, in game and wild life, in water resources, and in economics.

IN RIGHT DIRECTION.

Brazos is fundamentally an agricultural county and the crop conditions are a barometer on the financial condition, almost without exception. Therefore, everything that can be done to foster increased per acre production and greater diversification, as well as soil improvement, in this county, will bring greater prosperity.

A step in the right direction has been taken by the Bryan and Brazos County Chamber of Commerce in offering $460 in different premiums for agriculture. This supplemented by a similar worthy movement on the part of J. Webb Howell in offering $250, makes a total of $710 that will be given to farmers of Brazos county this year for crops. This will be in addition to the increased price that a better crop will bring in the open market. We are gradually finding what things will bring improvement and stressing them in preference to the things that are but of temporary importance.

The Bryan Daily Eagle has reduced the size of its head which improves its appearance.—Gilmer Mirror.

We thank you, Mirror, for "them" kind words. Few words of praise enter the life of an editor and those few are not only welcomed but treasured. Let us say here that we are not resting on our achievements, if they may be called such, but will endeavor to continue to improve the appearance, the quality and the "quantity" of our publication as best we can and as fast as economic conditions warrant. We want to serve our readers in the best possible way, and our advertisers as well. We believe we have made some headway and appreciate the fact having attracted the attention of a fellow-editor.

DID YOU KNOW.

The agricultural, live stock, mineral and other natural resources of Texas produce about 7 per cent of the raw material of the United States. This amounts to approximately $1,000,000,000 annually. Texas is far ahead of the other States of the Union as a producer of agricultural and live stock products.

Some of the products in 1924 were:
Corn, 78,000,000 bushels, valued at $86,000,000.
Wheat, 25,000,000 bushels, valued at $34,000,000.
Oats, 44,000,000 bushels, valued at $29,000,000.
Sorghum, 45,000,000 bushels, valued at $39,500,000.
Hay, 884,000 tons, valued at $141,179,000.
Potatoes, 6,600,000 bushels, valued at $11,000,000.
Rice, 5,600,000 bushels, valued at $6,670,000.
Peanuts, 3,000,000 bushels, valued at $4,440,000.
Onions, 2,100,000 bushels, valued at $3,263,000.

HONOR OF FIRST COTTON BLOOM TO AN UPLAND FARM

To Arnold Stevener of Kurten, who farms the John Beard farm in that community goes the honor of having produced the first known cotton bloom in Brazos county in 1925. He discovered the bloom in his field on Saturday. There may have been other before this one, but were not noticed if there were any previous ones. The cotton was planted on March the fifth.

Brazos County Club Members Given A Treat

The members of the Boys' and Girls' Clubs of Brazos County were the invited guests of District Agent A. W. Buchanan, who has been changed from District No. 2, which includes Brazos county to district Number 6, from his position with the Extension Service Department of the A. and M. College, County Agent C. L. Beason and County Home Demonstration Agent Miss Abbie Sevier, at a party given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan in the eastern part of the city on Saturday afternoon from 4 to 5 o'clock. The community of Edge, Tabor and Kurten were unusually well represented. Songs and club yells and contests marked the program. In a cake had been placed a dime, a button and a tooth pick. To the one who cut the dime Miss Eula Beth Locke, was given a pound box of candy, the feature prize. Miss Fannie Locke cut the button, winning the thimble given for this place and Estelle Armstrong won the tube of tooth paste for cutting the tooth-pick, Tabor thus winning all three prizes.

New District Agent.

District Agent A. W. Buchanan made a brief talk to the boys and girls announcing his retirement as district agent of Brazos County and introduced the new district agent, George W. Johnson, who stated that he wanted to know each and every one of them personally and to do all that he could to advance their work in every way possible.

The refreshments consisted of ice cream and cake and had been provided for an attendance of a hundred or 200 people. There were but 50 or 75 present but the refreshments disappeared so rapidly that those responsible for the occasion began to fear for some of the consuming party.

Among the visitors present were: Dr. W. F. Odom, Mrs. Will Henderson and Mrs. Henry Kurten all of Kurten; Mr. and Mrs. A. K. Short, Miss Mildred Horton and George W. Johnson, as well as A. W. Buchanan, County Agent C. L. Beason and Miss Abbie Sevier of the Extension Service; City Manager E. E. McAdams of Waco, S. E. Eberstadt, Miss Mary Locke and Assistant State Agent R. W. Persons.

M. E. Society Met In Groups Monday

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Methodist church met Monday afternoon in groups at homes of group members, reports of which meetings have been turned in to the Eagle as follows:

Group No. 4 met Monday afternoon with Mrs. C. A. Lewis. The chairman, Mrs. J. B. Priddy, led the devotional. Ten members and one visitor were present. The Bible lesson was led by Mrs. M. B. Willis on the 9th and 10th chapters of the book we are studying, "The Life of Paul." After the lesson the hostess passed a plate of ice cream and cake. The following were present: Mesdames C. A. Lewis, Josie Lawrence, R. B. Welch, J. C. Davidson, M. B. Willis, J. B. Priddy, E. J. Jenkins, Bessie Lawrence, S. E. Eberstadt, and Miss Lillie Hall; and one visitor, Mrs. D. J. McDonald.

Group No. 5 enjoyed a delightful meeting with Mrs. W. K. Gibbs eleven members responding to roll call with two visitors present. Sixty-seven chapters were reported and read and two visits made to sick and strangers. Mrs. Nat Allen, chairman, led the devotional and Mrs. H. N. Cochran the opening prayer. Mrs. O. A. Ashworth, assisted by Mesdames W. K. Gibbs, J. M. Williams and G. C. Thornton, conducted a very interesting Bible lesson. The next Monday meeting will be a Voice program and a social one. Those present were: Mesdames H. N. Cochran, Nat Allen, E. W. Bullock, J. N. Dulaney, G. C. Thornton, W. M. Owens, Wilson Bradley, W. K. Gibbs, J. W. James, J. M. Williams and O. A. Ashworth. Visitors were Mrs. J. F. Jones and Mrs. O. O. Henderson.

FOR WORKING PEOPLE.

The best of workers get out of sorts when the liver fails to act. They feel languid, half-sick, "blue" and discouraged and think they are getting lazy. Neglect of these symptoms might result in a sick spell, therefore the sensible course is to take a dose or two of Herbine. It is just the medicine needed to purify the system and restore the vim and ambition of health. Price 60c. Sold by JEN-KIN'S DRUG STORE.—Adv.

Hadley Reports Pythian Convention

George E. Hadley left last Thursday afternoon by an indirect route to go to Brownwood to attend the annual meeting of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias. He went first to Caldwell to attend a meeting of the chapter there and says that the meeting was one of the largest local lodges that he has attended in several years. Eight candidates were being initiated into the rank of "Esquire." He continued his journey then as far as Cameron with Mose G. Cox. Spending the night in Cameron, a party of five left that city on Sunday morning by car. After they left Belton they struck the rain and mud clear to Brownwood.

The country we traveled thru, said Mr. Hadley, is of scenery the most beautiful, as fine a sight as one could wish to see. We arrived at Brownwood at 5:30 in the afternoon and were quartered in the Southern Hotel where representatives and special committeemen had already begun to arrive.

Barbecue Dinner.

Mr. Hadley is chairman of the committee on state of the order, the first and most important committee in the grand lodge and his committee went right to work. The results of the labors was attested by the extended and elaborate praise given it when brought before the convention. Others on the committee were M. G. Cox of Cameron and Harry E. Gordon of Dallas.

The convention was called to order on Tuesday morning by

Grand Chancellor Charles E. Baughman, and after the address of welcome and the delivery of the keys of the city of Brownwood to the K. of P. Visitors, the delegation present at the session were told that no one of their membership would be arrested during their stay in Brownwood no matter what they did.

On Tuesday afternoon we were given a barbecue chicken dinner with all accessories, said Mr. Hadley. This was under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and there was every accessory and every delicacy that one could wish and one of the best barbecue dinners ever held in Texas, he added. It was a credit to the city to put on such a dinner and the diners certainly did it justice.

Bryan Refused Offer. We were asked if Bryan wanted the place for the convention city in 1926 and seeing that Brownwood was not a large enough city to adequately take care of the great number of visitors, approximately 2,000, we said no. While the City of Brownwood and its people were supreme in their courtesy and willingness, there was just not enough facilities in the town, even in the hotels and private homes that were thrown open, to care for so many folks. Three large auditoriums are required for the grand lodge convocation.

The happiest moment in the life of retiring Grand Chancellor Charles Baughman was when the necessary funds were given to him to pay off the indebtedness of Dallas.

Dr. and Mrs. John A. Held have returned from attending the annual meeting of the Southern Baptist Convention at Memphis, Tennessee.

Miss Adelle Hall spent Sunday at Steep Hollow with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Hall.

DR. S. P. BROOKS AND PAT M. NEFF TO BE PRINCIPAL SPEAKERS AT ALLEN ACADEMY GRADUATION

On Sunday, May 24th, at the First Baptist church, Allen Academy's 26th Commencement exercises will begin with the 11:00 o'clock service. The principals of the school feel that they have been very fortunate in securing Dr. S. P. Brooks, President of Baylor University, to deliver the baccalaureate sermon to the cent. corps. Dr. Brooks needs little introduction to the citizens of Texas, as he has been for a number of years a commanding figure in the educational plan of the Southern Baptists. The service at 11:00 o'clock will be in the hands of Dr. Brooks, assisted by Dr. Jno. A. Held of the First Baptist church. Special music under the supervision of Mr. C. H. Ward will be rendered by the church choir.

Military Maneuvers.

Monday afternoon, May 25th, the final battalion parade will be in the exercises of Military Day at the Academy. Following the parade, the military maneuvers will be held on the Academy campus. These exercises will include physical drill by the corps, company competition for the Waldrop trophy, competitive drill in the manual of arms for the gold medal offered by the Bryan Chamber of Commerce, company competition for the Christensen silver cup, squad, platoon and company movements, the Butts Manual to music. Other features will be very interesting and entertaining. A visiting board of military inspectors will judge the competitions.

Wednesday, May 27th, at 8:00 o'clock in the evening the graduating exercises will be held at the Palace Theatre. The principal address will be delivered by Ex-Governor Pat M. Neff, who will have more than a pleasing interest in this graduating class due to the fact that one of his nephews bearing his name will be one of the candidates for graduation. Mr. Neff has proved himself of unusual ability as a platform orator as well as one of the State's most excellent men.

Final examinations are now in progress at the school, and on Friday morning, May 29th, at 11:30 o'clock all duties and school activities will be at an end for this school year.

Patrons and friends of the school are cordially invited to be present at these exercises. Early reservations for rooms at Hotel Bryan is advised to out-of-town visitors.

TEXAS DELEGATION OF TEACHERS PLANNING ON A VISIT TO EUROPE

Itinerary Will Include Countries of France, Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Belgium and British Isles, Following Convention of World Federation of Education Edinburgh.

Several hundred Texas school teachers are planning a summer trip to Europe, to attend the convention of the World Federation of Education in Edinburgh, Scotland, July 28, according to Leonard Powel, principal of the Bryan High School, who will be one of the leaders of the party. Many teachers will travel in organized groups, visiting France, Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Belgium and then England and Scotland. The Texas delegation plans to leave New Orleans on June 14.

BUILDING CONSTRUCTION WILL CONTINUE THROUGH SUMMER AT A.M.-NEW DORMITORY PLANNED

(Special to the Eagle.)

COLEGE STATION, May 18.—The summer months are not to see the cessation of building activity on the campus. On the other hand President W. B. Bizzell seems still to possess the constructive power of which he has always been famous since his coming here ten years ago. A 32-room dormitory of the stucco type to be erected for graduate students will be brought into the cluster of dormitories this summer christened as "P-G. Hall", the initials meaning post graduate. The material is now being placed on the site just back of the Hospital and to the west of Alpha and Beta halls.

Another piece of construction of minor importance now being completed is a new drinking fountain immediately south of Foster hall. It is a duplicate of the fountain erected last fall in the space between Ross and Leggett halls. The new fountain will dispense iced water under the same plan as the other but it will be connected with the non-sulphuric well owing to the difficulty of constructing a water line over so great a distance. It is planned to add a refrigeration system to the fountain in Fountain lawn just west of Miller and Gathright halls and make it possible with these three ice water dispensaries to abandon the unsightly water barrels which are now used in the dormitory halls.

The new dormitory for graduate students will offer similar conveniences to them that is available to the bachelors in the war-time dormitory now known as the Bachelor's Club. The type of construction will be similar but will be better in many respects. The chief difference will be inside plastering. It will be two stories. Walter W. Kraft will direct the construction.

IN THE LONG AGO

Taken from the files of the Galveston News, May 18, 1875, fifty years ago: "Colonel M. W. Sims of Bryan is quartered at the Washington Hotel."

Harry Estill Wins High Record At Navasota Shoot

Quite a large delegation of Bryan men were present at the shoot Friday afternoon, also quite a number of women were out to witness the sport. Instead of taking 25 shots around nearly all of the participants shot 50 times, only a few holding a 25 round contest. C. R. Estill was high man in the contest between Bryan men, breaking 47 pigeons out of a possible 50. In the contest between Navasota men, Clarence Moore and T. H. Mackie tied for high place, each breaking 42 out of a possible 50.

Four Bryan men shot one round of doubles before the practice came to an end. Twenty-four pigeons were thrown, two at a time, for each man. High honors in doubles went to W. M. Wickes who broke 23 out of 24 shots.

These shoots are held every Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the range a short distance from town. Everybody is invited to come and take part whether a club member or not. A special invitation is extended to the women to attend as spectators.

The scores of Friday were:

Consolidated School Thanks D.A.R. For Gift

"Please allow me to express, in behalf of the school, our sincere appreciation and thankfulness for the very beautiful gift that we received from the D. A. R. chapter, through your efforts, and the kindness of Mrs. D. B. Cofer in bringing it to us," writes Geo. B. Wilcox, superintendent of the A. and M. Consolidated School, in a letter to Mrs. J. H. Allen of Bryan, Regent of the William Scott Chapter, D. A. R. The letter continues: "The flag is very beautiful and so very large, too. The children are very happy that they have such good friends among the good people of Bryan. I am sure that they will have ample opportunity to consult the flag at various times during the year. Always it will be a reminder to them of their possibilities as citizens. Please let us thank you again for the beautiful gift and assure you that each and every member of our school joins me in thanking you for the gift. Please convey our message to the local chapter of the D. A. R.'s."

Rev. J. J. Pipkin Goes Under Knife

Rev. J. J. Pipkin, who has been quite ill at his home on College Road for the past several weeks, underwent a second operation at the Bryan hospital on Friday afternoon. Reports from his bedside on yesterday afternoon brought the good news that he was to be removed from the hospital to his home again, and his condition is reported as favorable. Many friends are hoping for the speedy recovery of this good man, who is sadly missed from his usual place of helpfulness in all affairs of the church, over Brazos county, which he has served so faithfully for the past several years as Associational Secretary.

Gus Stevener of Kurten was among the business visitors in the city today.

LOCAL HUNTER WEPT OVER HARE HE SHOT

The scope of the Ford tender heart of its Master, Henry, is spreading to all Ford dealers in the land, it would seem. One of the partners in the local Ford agency went hunting the other day. To really go hunting, one must shoot something—craps if nothing else—but he shot a rabbit—poetically termed "hare." Now it is a common occurrence to read about them "tearing their hair and weeping" but in this case it happened in real life. This Ford agent "tore that hare all to pieces and then wept." That rabbit, after taking into its system a charge of shot, turned over on its side and wailed so mournfully over its departing spirit that the hunter turned to his companion and sobbed. "If I'd a known he was a-goin' to cry like that I'd never have shot him."

Kurten Boys and Girls Club Held Splendid Meeting

The Kurten boys' and girls' agricultural club held a splendid meeting on Monday night in the new school auditorium, but one member of the "Cheerful Forty-Three" being absent from the total membership. Some unusually good reports were rendered and praised by the individual members as each one responded to roll call with a report on their project and its progress. The club officers officiated in a manner to the office accustomed and with a poise and ease that would be creditable in an adult.

Music for the evening was furnished by a trio of piano, violin and guitar, two negro players having been taken out to Kurten by County Agent C. L. Beason to live on the program. The audience certainly enjoyed the playing, the negroes being accompanied by their pleasureable labors by Miss Gussie Odom on the piano. They played such numbers as "After the Ball", "Turkey in the Straw", "Arkansas Traveler" and others of a more popular nature, interspersing the music by accompanying the songs with singing.

Two New Songs.

The club was addressed by County Agent C. L. Beason and Miss Abbie Sevier, county agents, and songs and yells were given, one of them being for Miss Sevier. A letter was read from Miss Laura Belle Roten, giving her remembrance to the club membership and expressing hope for their success in the work. Britten Henderson, who made the best report of the whole, closed second by his brother, lead the yells and introduced a new song, H. D. Cuykendall of the Bryan Daily Eagle gave a reading, following a few humorous remarks and a little talk on club work in general.

A closing song was taught the members of the club by Messrs. Beason and Cuykendall and the evening closed with more music by the trio.

Aftermath of Big Reunion Will Be Staged Navasota

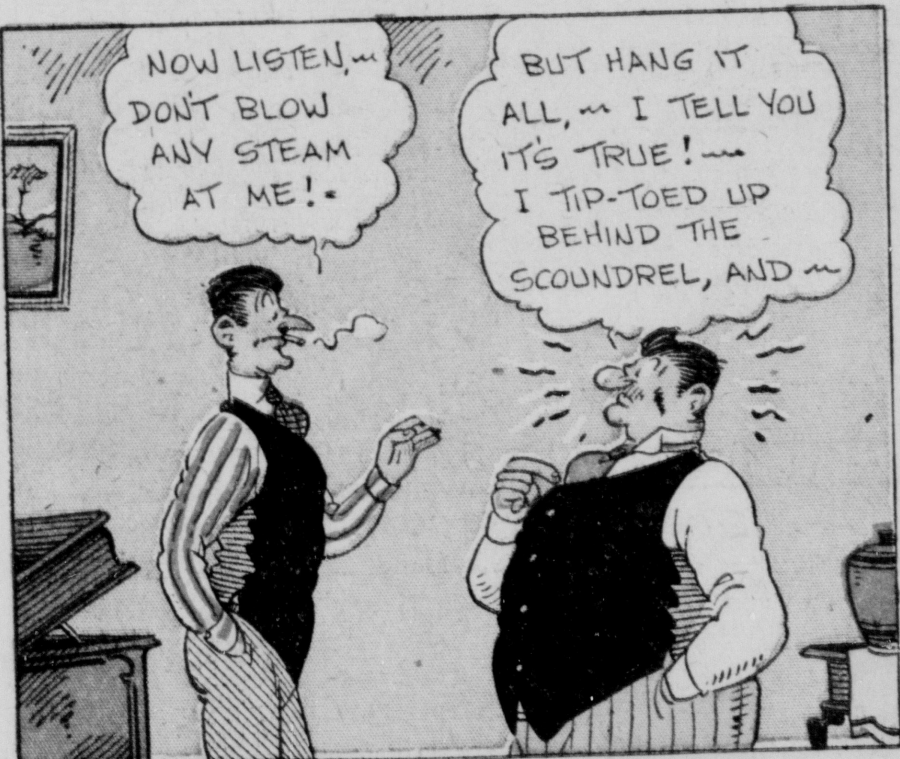

For Navasota, the Confederate Reunion has an especial interest for the aftermath will be staged here. On May 23rd, immediately following the meeting in Dallas, about forty or fifty of the Veterans will assemble here for the unveiling of the monument erected over the grave of Mrs. Joseph Lutton, formerly Mrs. Nathan Forrest, mother of the General N. B. Forrest of Civil War fame. One of the prominent personages to be present at this time is General N. B. Forrest, 11, son of the famous general and grandson of Mrs. Lutton. With him will be his friend, H. W. Evans, who will make the main address at the unveiling. These veterans will be entertained in the homes of the Daughters of the Confederacy and others who have offered their homes for this occasion. Those coming on Friday will be met and entertained in these homes on Friday night and served breakfast and those coming in early Saturday morning will also be served breakfast. At noon luncheon will be served by the Kiwanis Club and the Chamber of Commerce jointly in the Chamber of Commerce hall to all visitors and the Navasota Veterans. At two-thirty, the unveiling and address will take place at the Camp burying grounds. Saturday night, Mr. Evans will make a patriotic talk to the public at the City Park.—Navasota Examiner.

Pioneer Woman Honored on Her 87th Birthday

Friday, the 8th of May, marked the passing of the 87th milestone in the life of one of our most beloved pioneer women, Mrs. W. S. Lackey.

In appreciation of her character and the life she has lived before us, a party was arranged at her pastor's home by her daughter, Mrs. Elva Duckworth, and Mrs. T. E. McKenzie, which was held as a surprise to her, until the very hour.

Quite a number of her friends both young and old, called between the hours of 4 and 6, bringing her flowers, fruit, handkerchiefs, and many other tokens of love.

It became an afternoon of joy not only for the honoree, but for other beloved citizens, who have already lived more than three score and ten by reason of strength and vigor.

The artistic touch of Mrs. McKenzie was recognized in the adornment of the home, beautiful clusters of flowers being arranged at appropriate places.

Mrs. Lackey declared this to be her "first shower". May she live to receive many more was the wish expressed by all her friends.—Burleson County Ledger.

This bit of news will be read with interest in Bryan as Mrs. Lackey often visits here, a guest in the home of her nephew, County Agent and Mrs. C. L. Beason. Mrs. Lackey with her husband Rev. W. S. Lackey came to Texas from Alabama in 1867 and landed in Bryan, when it was the terminus for the H. and T. C. railroad. From here they went by coach to Port Sullivan, Milam County. Mrs. Lackey interestingly tells of early days of Texas and often recounts this trip from Bryan to Port Sullivan. She also tells of her husband paying $4.50 for a telegram sent from Bryan to Houston concerning their baggage, which was lost in transportation. So it seems that some things were higher in those days than now.

Martha Suber and Harold Harkey of Crystal City Wed

On Sunday, May 17th, at 9 a. m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Davis, Camden Street, San Antonio, was solemnized the marriage of Miss Martha Suber, daughter of Mrs. P. L. Barron, and granddaughter of Mrs. J. H. Suber of this city, to Mr. Harold Harkey of Crystal City, Texas. Rev. J. H. McVey, pastor of the First Baptist church of San Antonio, being the officiating minister, and the beautiful ring service was used. The home was artistically adorned in cut flowers and ferns. The marriage was witnessed only by the relatives of the bride and groom and a few intimate friends, but was none the less impressive and beautiful in the sweet simplicity which marked the sacred ceremony. Just before the entrance of the bridal couple Miss Aline Smith of Bryan sang "At Dawning," accompanied on the piano by Miss Julie Allee of San Antonio. The bride wore a handsome frock of georgette in pastel shade, with hat and accessories in harmony, and carried a bridal bouquet of pink carnations. The bride was born and reared in Bryan and is beloved by a large circle of friends here. She was an honor graduate of the Bryan high school, after which she attended Baylor College, Belton, where she graduated with honors with the senior class of 1924. This year, she has been a teacher in the high schools at Crystal City. The groom is one of the rising young business men of Crystal City, and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Harkey of that place. A beautiful new bungalow home is in course of construction for Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harkey, and as soon as it is completed they will occupy same. They will make their home for the present with the groom's parents. The out-of-town guests for the marriage on Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Harkey of Crystal City, Mrs. P. L. Barron and Miss Eugenia Suber of Wellborn, W. H. Buchanan of Kurten, Miss Corrie Suber and Tom Suber and Miss Aline Smith, Bryan.

Light Rains Fell Over Part Brazos County Sunday

Harvey community, College Station and the Brazos Bottom in the vicinity of Stone City were visited by light showers on Sunday afternoon. A heavy cloud bank hung around the western and northern horizon threatened a much anticipated rain, but produced little results of a practical nature as far as this section was concerned. It seemed to local observers that the Franklin-Hearne-Cameron section got the benefit of the cloud and its precipitation as did Nornangee and Madisonville, even east as far as Bedia. These sections have not as yet been heard from.

Arrangements Made For Bryan High Graduation

Forty-one seniors of Bryan High School will receive diplomas on the morning of Friday, May 29, in the school auditorium, on the occasion of the graduating exercises for the institution. Hon. Tidwell of the same institution, but owing to abereavement in the family, it was necessary to make the substitution.

Wheelock Whims

(Special to the Eagle)
WHEELOCK, May 19.—Sterling H. Takenchi, a Japanese student from the State University at Austin, spoke here at the local church Sunday afternoon at 3:30. His subjects were "Japan and Its People" and "Christianized Japan in the Making."
The house was full and every one enjoyed the lecture. Mr. Takenchi has been in America two years and says the American missionaries in Japan gave him the inspiration to come to America to study Christianity and American methods. He highly praised the work these missionaries are doing in his country, emphasizing their influence in lifting the Japanese woman from the bonds of ignorant slavery toward the position the American woman now holds in the home.

Takenchi is studying for diplomatic service and strongly favors world peace and a closer international relationship. He spoke twice in Franklin Sunday.

DELPHIAN CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Last Friday the Bryan Delphian Chapter held its final regular meeting of the year, and there was a splendid attendance. The roll call of current events, which has proved so interesting, was dispensed with because of such a full program. Final reports of committees were given. The following were elected to serve as officers of the club for next year: President, Mrs. W. S. Howell; Vice President, Mrs. M. Francis; Secretary, Mrs. H. P. Smith; Treasurer, Mrs. S. E. Cavitt; Advisory Board, Mrs. M. Owens, chairman, Mrs. J. W. Newland, and Miss Caroline Kern. The club voted to give $10.00 to Miss Curtis, County Health Nurse, to use in her work in the county.

The program of the day was on Recent Italian Drama, and a general survey of the year's work. Mrs. W. H. Darrow very capably led the discussion and the following text reports were given: Mrs. Geo. Eisert gave the "Beginnings of Drama," Mrs. G. L. Crawford, "The Characteristics of Drama," Mrs. Harriet Stone reviewed "The Greek Drama," Mrs. C. G. Wetter "Roman Drama," Mrs. R. J. Newland, "Drama of the Middle Ages," Miss Caroline Kern, "Drama of the 18th Century," Mrs. W. S. Howell, "Modern Drama".

The President Mrs. Thomas Lundin, who has been such an inspiration to the members, and who has been so faithful and earnest in her work as leader of the Delphians this year, spoke very enthusiastically and with feeling of her enjoyment of this year's work. In her closing remarks she likened Delphians work to a mountain climb, saying that "One of the finest views in our country is sunned from the summit of Pikes Peak, but to get this view you climb twenty-one miles from the park gate to the summit which is over 14,000 thousand feet high, always up and up. Looking back over the countless hair pin loops, you wonder if you will ever reach the top, for the last three miles are the hardest and steepest of all. As the curtain is about to fall on my part in this year's drama in the Bryan Delphian Chapter, I am reminded of this climb and a saying of Lloyd George's "No goal worth reaching for is as near as it appears to be hopeful, nor as remote as it seems to the timid." So, very timidly, but slowly and surely, your leader and her earnest followers started the climb this year. The Delphian plan provided us with tools to help us on our way. Rural Community Progress

(By H. D. Cuykendall).
Eight years ago, one of the first community clubs in Texas was organized and is one of the few that was in existence at that time which has functioned throughout the years and still continues to serve as such an institution. The history of this club and its achievements in promoting and developing rural community progress is one that is outstanding and should be told in words and story throughout the land. It is a story of progress and betterment in many different ways.

By the light of the county agent's car and a lamp without a chimney, eight people with a vision met at the little rural schoolhouse—just a district school, and organized a community club. Those who were present on that memorable occasion will never forget it and they can rejoice that they were the charter members in an initial venture that has literally worked wonders in the short space of only eight years.

On last Monday night there gathered at the same location, between 500 and 1,000 people to witness the graduation exercises of Tabur rural high school, a modern school and modernly equipped—a school that hopes to have credit rating in only a year or so, the lack of adequate laboratory equipment now being the only barrier in the way.

And that community center is now the scene of a consolidated rural school comprising a large territory, with five or six teachers and over a hundred pupils. The school boasts an auditorium, one of the few in Texas in the rural section, but only one of six in Brazos county. However, that auditorium has not kept pace with the progress of the community and now a committee of community club is visiting other sections to see their auditoriums and to lay plans for erecting before fall a fine new auditorium to be used for school and community purposes—an auditorium with a stage where productions can be adequately and properly put on and with an inclined floor for the convenience of spectators.

Tabur won the first state championship in boys' and girls club work in 1921.

Tabur is a live wire, wide-awake community. Prices of farm land have mounted more than double in less than a decade. The reason is because the people will pay a premium to live in a community like Tabur with a community club where all the citizens can gather once or twice a month in a friendly and social way, where they can talk over and discuss problems and projects, where they can hear things that are of interest and at the same time instructive. They will pay a higher price to live in a section where their children can enjoy modern school advantages and where the churches are alive to their real duty of service and where they are adequately kept up. Such a community is Tabur.

Sometimes we do not appreciate the work of the men who, by hard labor, self-sacrifice and personal expense of time and money, have made this rural betterment, development and progress possible, through their leadership and their vision. We want to place the credit upon the heads of those to whom it properly belongs. Outstanding above all others is our inimitable and premier county agent, C. L. Beason, who never refuses any reasonable demand upon his time day or night to do anything that will lead to a better agriculture and better farm conditions. It was his vision of community clubs that led to the organization of the Tabur Welfare Club and its continuance throughout these years; and the great good that it has accomplished can be traced back to this one human energy source. Assisting him were a number of others who were ready to back Beason in anything he might plan to do. First of those was Secretary Sam E. Eberstadt of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce who has the ability to carry thru any project he may undertake, from selling a box of candy for $195 to putting over a two and a half million dollar institution like the building and loan association

Friday, the 8th of May, marked the passing of the 87th milestone in the life of one of our most beloved pioneer women, Mrs. W. S. Lackey.

In appreciation of her character and the life she has lived before us, a party was arranged at her pastor's home by her daughter, Mrs. Elva Duckworth, and Mrs. T. E. McKenzie, which was held as a surprise to her, until the very hour.

Quite a number of her friends both young and old, called between the hours of 4 and 6, bringing her flowers, fruit, handkerchiefs, and many other tokens of love.

It became an afternoon of joy not only for the honoree, but for other beloved citizens, who have already lived more than three score and ten by reason of strength and vigor.

The artistic touch of Mrs. McKenzie was recognized in the adornment of the home, beautiful clusters of flowers being arranged at appropriate places.

Mrs. Lackey declared this to be her "first shower". May she live to receive many more was the wish expressed by all her friends.

—Burleson County Ledger.

This bit of news will be read with interest in Bryan as Mrs. Lackey often visits here as a guest in the home of her nephew, County Agent and Mrs. C. L. Beason.

Mrs. Lackey with her husband Rev. W. S. Lackey came to Texas from Alabama in 1867 and landed in Bryan, when it was the terminus for the H. and T. C. railroad. From here they went by coach to Port Sullivan, Milam County. Mrs. Lackey interestingly tells of early days of Texas and often recounts this trip from Bryan to Port Sullivan. She also tells of her husband paying $4.50 for a telegram sent from Bryan to Houston concerning their baggage, which was lost in transportation. So it seems that some things were higher in those days than now.

Martha Suber and Harold Harkey of Crystal City Wed

On Sunday, May 17th, at 9 a. m., at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Davis, Camden Street, San Antonio, was solemnized the marriage of Miss Martha Suber, daughter of Mrs. P. L. Barron, and granddaughter of Mrs. J. H. Suber of this city, to Mr. Harold Harkey of Crystal City, Texas, Rev. J. H. McVey, pastor of the First Baptist church of San Antonio, being the officiating minister, and the beautiful ring service was used. The home was artistically adorned in cut flowers and ferns. The marriage was witnessed only by the relatives of the bride and groom and a few intimate friends, but was none the less impressive and beautiful in the sweet simplicity which marked the sacred ceremony. Just before the entrance of the bride and groom, Miss Alene Smith of Bryan sang "At Dawning," accompanied on the piano by Miss Julie Allee of San Antonio. The bride wore a handsome frock of georgette in pastel shade, with hat and accessories in harmony, and carried a bridal bouquet of pink carnations.

The bride was born and reared in Bryan and is beloved by a large circle of friends here. She was an honor graduate of the Bryan high school, after which she attended Baylor College, Belton, where she graduated with honors with the senior class of 1924. This year, she has been a teacher in the high schools at Crystal City. The groom is one of the rising young business men of Crystal City, and is a son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Harkey of that place. A beautiful new bungalow home is in course of construction for Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harkey, and as soon as it is completed they will occupy same. They will make their home for the present with the groom's parents. The out-of-town guests for the marriage on Sunday were: Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Harkey of Crystal City, Mrs. P. L. Barron and Miss Eugenia Suber of Wellborn, W. H. Buchanan of Kurten, Miss Corrie Suber and Tom Suber and Miss Alene Smith, Bryan.

Light Rains Fell Over Part Brazos County Sunday

Harvey community, College Station and the Brazos Bottom in the vicinity of Stone City were visited by light showers on Sunday afternoon. A heavy cloud bank hung around the western and northern horizon threatened a much anticipated rain, but produced little results of a practical nature as far as this section was concerned. It seemed to local observers that the Franklin-Hearne-Cameron section got the benefit of the cloud and its precipitation as did Normangee and Madisonville, even east as far as Bedia. These sections have not as yet been heard from.

Arrangements Made For Bryan High Graduation

Forty-one seniors of Bryan High School will receive diplomas on the morning of Friday, May 29, in the school auditorium, on the occasion of the graduating exercises for the institution. Hon. The commencement or baccalaureate sermon will be preached on the Sunday preceding, May 24, in the First Methodist church by Dr. J. H. Head of the Theological Department of Baylor University. Supt. Hall stated that all arrangements had been made for the sermon to be preached by Dr. J. B. Tidwell of the same institution, but owing to an over-estimate in the family, it was necessary to make the substitution.

The house was full and every one enjoyed the lecture. Mr. Takenchi has been in America two years and says the American missionaries in Japan gave him the inspiration to come to America to study Christianity and American methods. He highly praised the work these missionaries are doing in his country, emphasizing their influence in lifting the Japanese woman from the bonds of ignorant slavery toward the position the American woman now holds in the home.

Takenchi is studying for diplomatic service and strongly favors world peace and a closer international relationship. He spoke twice in Franklin Sunday.

DELPHIAN CLUB ELECTS OFFICERS

Last Friday the Bryan Delphian Chapter held its final regular meeting of the year, and there was a splendid attendance. The roll call of current events, which has proved so interesting, was dispensed with because of such a full program. Final reports of committees were given. The following were elected to serve as officers of the club for next year: President, Mrs. W. S. Howell; Vice President, Mrs. M. Francis; Secretary, Mrs. H. P. Smith; Treasurer, Mrs. S. E. Cavitt; Advisory Board, Mrs. W. M. Owens, chairman, Mrs. R. J. Newland, and Miss Caroline Kern. The club voted to give $10.00 to Miss Curtis, County Health Nurse, to use in her work in the county.

The program of the day was an Italian Drama, and a general survey of the year's work. Mrs. W. H. Darrow very capably led the discussion and the following text reports were given: Mrs. Geo. Eisert gave "Beginnings of Drama"; Mrs. G. L. Crawford, "The Characteristics of Drama"; Mrs. Harriet Stone reviewed "The Greek Drama"; Mrs. C. G. Wetter "Roman Drama"; Mrs. R. J. Newland, "Drama of the Middle Ages"; Miss Caroline Kern, "Drama of the 18th Century"; Mrs. W. S. Howell, "Modern Drama".

The President Mrs. Thomas Lundin, who has been such an inspiration to the members, and who has been so faithful and earnest in her work as leader of the Delphians this year, spoke very enthusiastically and with feeling of her enjoyment of this year's work. In her closing remarks she likened Delphians work to a mountain climb, saying that "One of the finest views in our country is sunned from the summit of Pikes Peak, but to get this view you climb twenty-one miles from the park gate to the summit which is over 14,000 thousand feet high, always up and up. Looking back over the countless hair pin loops, you wonder if you will ever reach the top, for the last three miles are the hardest and steepest of all. As the curtain is about to fall on my part in this year's drama in the Bryan Delphian Chapter, I am re-mined of this climb and a saying of Lloyd George's "No goal worth reaching for is as near as it appears to be hopeful, nor as remote as it seems to be the timid." So, very timidly, but slowly and surely, your leader and her earnest followers started the climb this year. The Delphian plan provided us with tools to help us on our way. The year book I will call the pick, for to understand it we had to dig, but the best tool, our chapter meeting represented by the staff, some of my followers threw away (possibly because it was too heavy), and those we left behind in the valley and they missed our reward, the wonderful view.

Many times in our upward journey, we were tempted to think we were not making progress, but looking back over the little hills and valleys by which we had come, we knew we were. Isn't it something that we have been able to stand before an audience this year and give our text reports and so conquer a fear of self-consciousness? Have we not developed concentration? Did we not strengthen our memories? Have we not better understood our insignia, "the open door to knowledge"? Are we not better, happier, more intelligent women for having carried out the Delphian course. Hasn't the Community gained something, not because of our individual effort, but because we worked together as a chapter? Surely these are achievements.

It is the spirit and results, not numbers that make a chapter. Only three hundred Greeks held the Pass of Thermopylae against hordes of orientals. So to those loyal dear followers who went with me all the way to the top I voice my sincerest and deepest appreciation. No one can be a leader of an organization without gaining much, a humbling of heart, a joy in service, and best of all that invaluable lesson to beware of prejudice. A leader learns that the rose blooming next door is as beautiful as hers, that light is good in whatever lamp it burns, that her neighbor's idea is as worthy as her own. In "So Big", you remember we read about mistakes. Its funny, you've got to make your own, so all the mistakes I made were in good faith through over-zealousness for the chapter. May I thank you for a year of joy and inspiration and the privilege of serving you, and hand the gavel to our next leader, Mrs. W. S. Howell. Here, we have a leader who has the vision to see ahead. I am sure she will find a new path, one I did not know, or did not see, and we will all have another opportunity to start from the valley to the top next year."

Mrs. Howell responded with her usual charming originality, expressing her desire, as leader, to carry on the Delphian work as efficiently next year as it has been this year, and the chapter feels that with such a splendid leader, such capable officers, and loyal and enthusiastic members much will be accomplished next year. The chapter will enjoy a social meeting Friday evening for the members and their families in a picnic supper at the Pin-Feather Club.

Such a community is Taber.

Sometimes we do not appreciate the work of the men who, by hard labors, self-sacrifice and personal expense of time and money, have made this rural betterment, development and progress possible, through their leadership and their vision. We want to place the credit upon the heads of those to whom it properly belongs. Outstanding above all others is our inevitable and premier county agent, C. L. Beason, who never refuses any reasonable demand upon his time day or night to do anything that will lead to a better agriculture and better farm conditions. It was his vision of community clubs that led to the organization of the Taber Welfare Club and its continuance throughout these years; and the great good that it has accomplished can be traced back to this one human energy source. Assisting him were a number of others who were ready to back Beason in anything he might plan to do. First of those was Secretary Sam E. Eberstadt of the Bryan Chamber of Commerce who has the ability to carry through any project he may undertake, from selling a box of candy for $195 to putting over a two and a half million dollar institution like the building and loan association of Bryan.

Others too have given of their own time and their own money to pay their expenses, to go to the rural sections. They have been repaid many times over in the gratitude of the farmers and their families, for the assistance rendered on programs, for the realization that they have accomplished a real service to others, and the final proof that the business institutions with which these parties are connected, have prospered as a result of the visits their free-will representatives have made.

Let's give a little tribute here and now tell these people how much their work has been appreciated. They have not only built up a better living condition, a more prosperous condition, and a more enjoyable condition in the rural sections but they have built a foundation on solid rock for a greater Bryan and a greater Brazos county. Some day their work is going to be appreciated to a far greater extent than it is today.

New Insurance Map Be Made of City of Bryan

(From Thursday's Daily)
W. A. Stovall, supervisor of the San Antonio zone for the Sanborn Map Company of New York City, has been in Bryan since Monday plotting the sheet and making other preliminary arrangements to the making of a fire insurance map of the city of Bryan. He will be joined here next week by E. P. Ward and H. I. Neal and the three men will go over every business and residential structure in Bryan and College, making actual measurements and drawing diagrams of every building in the city limits.

The public is asked not to consider them as housebreakers and bootleggers when they enter the yard of a home to measure distance from other buildings, etc.

They will not enter the interior of a home at all. So if people of Bryan see strange men acting like "nuts" around their yards, they are requested to refrain from sickening the dogs on them.

The last map of this kind, made by the same company was in 1912. They are supposed to be made every five years. The 1912 map had 24 pages, drawn on a 50-foot scale, of both Bryan and College. This map to be made will have over 40 pages, much of it done on a 100-foot scale, or making a book that would be around 60 pages on the same scale as that of 1912. This shows the growth of our community in the past 13 years.

Two Arrested On Liquor Charge Saturday Night

William and Herman Brocksmidt, brothers, who live about 7 miles from Bryan on the Kurten road, were arrested last Saturday by Sheriff Jess Conlee, his father, Constable J. D. Conlee, and Night Officers Offa Williams and K. T. Tillis. The officers raided the home and brought the men in to Bryan, placing them in the Brazos County jail on a charge of possession of intoxicating liquor. They were released on bond of $500 each. Since the grand jury for this term of court has already adjourned, the action on this case will have to be deferred to the convening of the grand jury of the next term of district court.

Rev. and Mrs. Fish will leave Bryan Saturday and will be accompanied home by their daughter, Mrs. Fish and son, Hamilton, Jr.

H. T. Adams, salesman for the Apex-Rotax Electrical Appliances, who was in Bryan for some time connected with the Haswell Book Store, agents for these products, arrived on the early morning train and brings reports of heavy rains in East Texas, particularly around Nacogdoches where for several days it rained nearly a quarter of an inch every afternoon. He said that he went to Port Arthur and took the rain there with him, but he might be in error on that as Port Arthur is visited by frequent rains anyway and some of them heavy ones too. Mr. Adams expected to leave tonight for Navasota to work the territory between Bryan and that city.

Milk-Grading Ordinance Discussed

A representative body of Bryan citizens gathered at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Friday afternoon at two o'clock, meeting with representatives of the Federal and State Health and Sanitation Departments on the question of the regulation of the sale of milk in Bryan and the grading of all milk sold by local dairies, same to be marked with the grade.

The first speaker was Leslie C. Frank of the United States Public Health Service. He first took up the different ways in which diseases could be transferred through milk and told how they could not be combated, then leading up to ways in which a large percentage of diseases could be prevented.

Tuberculosis in cattle was the first subject taken up and the accepted remedy discussed as a means of preventing the spread of the great white plague to people from T. B. infected cows of the dairy herd. Next came typhoid fever, which is spread through milkers or others who come in contact with the milk and who are carriers of typhoid fever.

Seven Show Records.
"Altogether," said Mr. Frank, "42 epidemics from typhoid fever and other diseases were reported to the U. S. government as having been caused by milk last year. Because of this great number of epidemics," he continued, "the government had decided that it would be necessary to design a milk ordinance which the cities of the country could pass and thereby reduce the amount of disease and death being spread through impure milk."

Mr. Frank stated that the public health service at Washington had designed a milk grading ordinance which would cause the grades of the milk to be shown on the caps of the bottle, so that the housewife would be able to tell which was safe milk and which was unsafe milk. "This grading ordinance," stated Mr. Frank, "has

(From Saturday's Daily)
Fifty-eight guests were seated at the banquet given Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the parish house when the Bryan Parent-Teachers Association entertained the Senior Class and the High School faculty. The long table, in "L" shape, was laid in snowy damask and the "green and white" of Bryan high school was emphasized in silver baskets of white water lilies, placed at intervals, and a rope of feathery fern leaves running from one basket to the next, throughout the center of the long table. Green candles in silver candlesticks and low bowls of sweet peas added another touch of beauty.

Bible Class Will Hold Its First All-Day Meeting

The Bryan Bible Club, in regular session last night at the Carnegie Library where we meet every Monday night, studied "The First Sin of the Early Church," found in the 5th chapter of the Acts of the Apostles, which book we are studying at the present time under the heading of "The Acts of the Holy Spirit." We cannot impose upon the Bryan Daily Eagle to the extent of reporting the entire proceedings of these classes and we fully appreciate their extreme kindness and courtesy shown at all times.

The first sin of the church as presented by A. L. Page, instructor, last night and shown throughout the Bible, is the same sin which is so prevalent today, and the ease with which Mr. Page referred to the different passages of Scripture showed him to be master of the situation from a Bible standpoint, and it is regrettable fact that every person in Bryan who wants to learn something of the Bible does not attend these lectures and study the great truths that are given us. We are studying the Bible for the purpose of learning what it has to say upon different subjects and to enable us to read for ourselves and form our own conclusions without having any dogmas or opinions thrust upon us and to our mind this is the only opportunity that the people of Bryan have ever had to have the Bible explained in an unbiased way by one who is most thoroughly capable of connecting it up.

All-Day Meeting.
The Bible is the only book that carries with it its own key and unless you are enabled to read all the connections and get the explanation you can never understand nor appreciate the beauties and simplicity of this wonderful book. It is a complete education within itself and the rule and guide of right living, and the lesson of last night was to show that the same selfishness that prevailed in earlier times is the same sin that is causing so much dissatisfaction in the world today.

It was announced last night that the first all-day meeting of the club would be held Saturday, May 23rd, at the First Christian church through the courtesy of the church officials in permitting the use of the building for this strictly non-denominational Bible conference. The first address will be at 10 a. m. and a detailed program will be announced later. A number of out-of-town parties will be present, including several couples from Houston, and special music will be presented. Plan to bring your dinner and enjoy the Bible feast.

Fifty People of Grimes County Visited A. & M.

SHERIFF JESS CONLEE TOOK AN INSANE NEGRO TO AUSTIN ON FRIDAY
Joe White, a negro judged insane in a sanity court in Bryan about a month ago, and who was turned over to the family which lives near Millican, to keep temporarily, was taken to Austin on Friday by Sheriff Jess Conlee, to be lodged in the state insane asylum.

Those present at the meeting were: Dr. H. O. Sappington, State Health Officer; Leslie C. Frank, Sanitary Engineer, U. S. Public Health Service; Dr. C. A. Searcy, City and County health officer; Dr. W. H. Heskell, city veterinarian of Beaumont in Bureau State Inspector for food and dairy department; Mrs. J. N. Goodwin, Mrs. J. L. Brock and Mrs. E. W. Crenshaw represented the Woman's Club, County Agent C. L. Beason, Mayor Tyler Haswell, City Manager J. Bryan Miller and City Commissioner L. L. McInnis.

The next speaker was Dr. H. O. Sappington, State Health Officer. He pointed out that many other commodities were being graded, such as apples, wheat, corn, oats, cotton, etc., and he could see no reason why milk should not also be graded. The State Department was prepared to assist cities of small financial means in carrying out the provisions of the standard ordinance.

Chairman Henderson then asked how much it would cost the city of Bryan to carry out the standard ordinance. His question was answered by State Sanitary Engineer V. M. Ehlers, who said that Bryan was so fortunately situated that the cost of it would be practically nil. The inspection work could be done by the regular sanitary inspector employed by the city, who would be specially trained by the State Board of Health experts, if the city so desired, and that the laboratory work could be done at the College Laboratory, or sent direct to the State Board of Health in a special shipping container designed by the U. S. Government.

Texas Milk Epidemics.
Mr. Ehlers points out that the inspection work would not require a great deal of time on the part of the local inspector, inasmuch as inspection of dairies, when the work got into swing, would not be required more often than about once a month. Samples, he said, would be taken at random and because of this fact, no dairyman could know when they would be taken and would therefore be obliged to keep up the proper methods at all times in order not to be caught napping.

Mr. Ehlers also referred to quite a large number of epidemics to which he had received emergency calls in Texas and which he had found to have been caused by milk. He pointed out therefore that the epidemic dangers referred to by the Federal government were not merely theoretical dangers but were actually being experienced in Texas, and that any city itself might not have within recent years experienced an epidemic. It would never be possible to tell just what the lightning might strike.

The Bryan team is composed of the following members: Dr. C. A. Searcy, W. M. S. C. Hoyle, Sr. W. J. Hall, J. W. Dr. D. H. Reid, Treas. C. R. Gardner, Sec. J. W. Payne, Sr. Dr. R. Stubblefield, J. D. S. A. Noble, S. S. Gordon Stevens, J. S. H. D. Wilson, Tyler, W. F. and S. F., while H. E. Randolph, M. S. Hulls, and Ray Williams, C. F. Ayres, A. S. King, H. N. Bell, J. J. Ledbetter, C. H. Jones, and several other members took important parts throughout the ceremonies of the evening.

Cars were furnished by Dr. C. A. Searcy, P. H. Clark, Dr. E. P. Humbert, C. H. Jones, C. F. Ayres, Chas. Hillier, O. A. Ashworth, C. R. Gardner, G. A. Long, H. E. Randolph, while A. S. King secured a car for the occasion.
The team and visitors returned to Bryan about 1 a. m., tired but happy and all agreed that they had one of the best trips it has been their pleasure to make. Truly the Franklin brethren know how to entertain and make you feel that the latch string hangs on the outside.

Selecting Best History Essay Is Quite A Task

The date for receiving manuscripts in the history contest being conducted by L. S. Ross Chapter, U. D. C. of this city, closed May 15th. The committee in charge is delighted with the contributions, there being quite a large number of essays submitted. The trouble now will be to decide the winning essays as all are splendid and most interesting. Much local history and many intensely interesting stories of the Civil War which have never been in print, have been brought to light through investigations made by the girls and boys writing essays for this history contest. These essays submitted are numbered as they are received, and the corresponding number together with the name of the writer, in a sealed envelope, will not be opened until the committee has made its decision upon merit alone. The prize winning essay will be read on the official program at the meeting of the month of June, and the writer of the essay will also be given a gold medal. The local chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy is proud of every essay submitted and will treasure them as bits of valuable history and interest.

LOCAL CITIZEN WILL REPLACE JOHN EGAN IN EXTENSION SERVICE
The following clipping from the Austin American will be read with interest by the friends of A. L. Smith, who with his family, is a resident of Bryan. Mr. Smith has done a great work, and this change comes as a promotion to him. "A. L. Smith has been placed in charge of the extension work of the A. and M. College and the United States Department of Agriculture in this district, according to Walter E. Davis, county farm agent. Smith will replace John T. Egan, who has been transferred to the plains sections of the state. His headquarters will be in College Station and he will have general supervision of extension work in about 20 counties in this section of the State."

MRS. WIPPRECHT RETURNS FROM TRIP IN THE EAST
(From Saturday's Daily)
Mrs. Walter Wipprecht returned this morning on an early train from a month's visit to the East. Mrs. Wipprecht was representative of the Daughters of the American Revolution at Washington, D. C. There Mrs. Wipprecht was a guest in the home of her son, Captain and Mrs. Read Wipprecht. Later she visited her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kernodle at Graham, North Carolina. After the convention was over Mrs. Wipprecht spent much time seeing the historical points of interest in and around Washington and this added to the social courtesies extended, gave her a very full calendar and she reports one of the happiest times of her life.

People's Well-Being.
In a letter expressing regret at not being able to attend the recent county-wide club meet, Director T. O. Walton of the Extension Service pays the following tribute to boys' and girls' club work: "May I depend upon you to express to the boys and girls that assemble on that occasion my deep regret at my inability to be with them on this occasion? There is no work that challenges the best of us more than the boys and girls club work that is being conducted by the Extension Service of this institution. My constant hope and prayer is that we may always prove wise and worthy leaders of these young men and women that we may so direct their energies that each succeeding generation whose lives we touch may profit and prosper by our teachings and our efforts." Say, club members, "fifteen" for Director Walton. No people can overgo very far wrong in following the leadership of a man whose heart throbs for the well-being of the common people; for the boys and girls on the farm.

Market Infertile Eggs.
Now that the breeding season is over why not "swat" the rooster, or take him off the poultry yard, in order that none but infertile eggs may be produced for the market? Infertile eggs are better and they keep better; they command a better price in all homes looking for quality food products. When the producer helps to create a demand for his products he is lending assistance in creating a better market. This is the case when the poultryman offers only infertile eggs to the local trade, or buying public. When you offer fertile eggs for sale, you may rest assured that many such eggs will reach the consumer, if not the local grocer, in a condition unfit for use, thus lessening the demand for eggs and helping to break, instead of make, the market. Quality products, tastefully packed, will tend to create better markets, while poor, products, carelessly prepared, will tend to lessen the demand.

Onions Raised In Drouth.
F. E. Jones of Route 5 was marketing some very fine onions a few days ago, notwithstanding the unprecedented drouth, and remarked that such onions were bringing on the local market $3 a crate. Mr. Jones states that under favorable conditions 300 crates per acre can be produced. Of course, it is not likely the price would be as good as it is now, at least the consumer might hope for it to be less, but the margin would bear a good deal of trimming, it would appear, before all the profit could be shown from one's labor. These onions, exhibited by Mr. F. E. Jones, were larger than the top of a tea cup and were produced, as every one knows, with mighty little rain.

Helping The Other Fellow.
There are a few people who are sold to the idea that Bryan's future greatness is in direct proportion to the progress of agriculture in Brazos county, and these men and women are willing to do all in their power to lend assistance in making both town and county prosperous, but to make the greatest progress all must be sold to the idea. One "knacker" can hinder the progress of a dozen good men. One "fire bug" can destroy in one night the work of a hundred good carpenters for a whole year. So it is in all life's work. We can help or we can hinder; we can boost or we can knock. The little Jap speaking at the Methodist church recently said his opinion of all Americans was changed when his hat, quickly blown from his head, was kindly handed back to him by a stranger—an American. The little things we do and say will help some other one farther along life's way, whether it be the making of a better life or boosting for a better agriculture.

Standing of Contest Entries.
Entries in the Cotton Contest last Saturday at noon had reached a total of 3,356, an increase of 206 over last week's total of 3,150. Gregg county continues to head the list with 236 entries. Other high counties are Rusk 183, Harrison 132, Smith 130, Hopkins 112, Cherokee 74, Leakey 70, Anderson 68, Nacogdoches 65, Bowie 65, Navarro 59, Titus 56, Comanche 52, Wood 50. Semi-Weekly Farm News.

Contest Endorsed By Jardine.
A letter of indorsement of the "More Cotton on Fewer Acres" contest from Secretary of Agriculture William M. Jardine, Washington, D. C., and of the four-year program of agricultural development by the Dallas Morning News and the Semi-Weekly Farm News in co-operation with the Extension Service of the Texas A. and M. College. The letter follows in part:

"I have been advised of the contest being conducted by The Dallas Morning News and The Semi-Weekly Farm News, as a part of a four-year program of agricultural development for Texas, having for its object an increase in the acre yields of cotton, the reduction of cotton acreage and the planting of feed and food crops on the land released from cotton. The importance of establishing a well-balanced system of farming in Texas is recognized and a properly regulated contest that will stimulate competitive effort and attract general attention to results that may be obtained by improved cultural practices with cotton and other crops should be of great value.

"This department is always interested in any program that has for its object the improvement of agricultural crops in the United States and we are always glad to encourage competitive contests and to co-operate in making them a success. Very truly yours, (Signed) W. M. JARDINE, Secretary."

OBITUARY
In memory of Andrew Marvin, the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Tadlock, of Bedias, Texas, who was called home April 20th, 1925. Marvin was born January 25th, 1909. He is survived by father, mother and three brothers, and a large number of relatives and friends of Bedias, Shiro and Bryan. He was a great grandson of Mr. and J. N. Thomas of Shiro, Texas.

Now dear father and mother
No longer for your boy weep;
He is up in Heaven
Only for a short time to sleep.

Brothers be ready for this meeting
When you hear the midnight cry
For our Savior will be coming
On the clouds up in the sky.

Now to his school chums
And Sunday school mates
Get ready for this meeting
Before it is too late.

Dear Marvin, we will live without you
But sweet thoughts of you shall rise
Gladly we'll welcome the day
With no parting in the skies.

"Amid a loving, sorrowing crowd,
In an icy calm you lay;
You looked so young and tender
We could not feel 'twas clay.
But it was dust that formed the frame
Where dwelt the soul we love,
God in pity laid His claim

Boys' and Girls' Club Department

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

People's Well-Being.
In a letter expressing regret at not being able to attend the recent county-wide club meet, Director T. O. Walton of the Extension Service pays the following tribute to boys' and girls' club work: "May I depend upon you to express to the boys and girls that assemble on that occasion my deep regret at my inability to be with them on this occasion? There is no work that challenges the best of us more than the boys and girls club work that is being conducted by the Extension Service of this institution. My constant hope and prayer is that we may always prove wise and worthy leaders of these young men and women that we may so direct their energies that each succeeding generation whose lives we touch may profit and prosper by our teachings and our efforts." Say, club members, "fifteen" for Director Walton. No people can overgo very far wrong in following the leadership of a man whose heart throbs for the well-being of the common people; for the boys and girls on the farm.

Market Infertile Eggs.
Now that the breeding season is over why not "swat" the rooster, or take him off the poultry yard, in order that none but infertile eggs may be produced for the market? Infertile eggs are better and they keep better; they command a better price in all homes looking for quality food products. When the producer helps to create a demand for his products he is lending assistance in creating a better market. This is the case when the poultryman offers only infertile eggs to the local trade, or buying public. When you offer fertile eggs for sale, you may rest assured that many such eggs will reach the consumer, if not the local grocer, in a condition unfit for use, thus lessening the demand for eggs and helping to break, instead of make, the market. Quality products, tastefully packed, will tend to create better markets, while poor, products, carelessly prepared, will tend to lessen the demand.

Onions Raised In Drouth.
F. E. Jones of Route 5 was marketing some very fine onions a few days ago, notwithstanding the unprecedented drouth, and remarked that such onions were bringing on the local market $3 a crate. Mr. Jones states that under favorable conditions 300 crates per acre can be produced. Of course, it is not likely the price would be as good as it is now, at least the consumer might hope for it to be less, but the margin would bear a good deal of trimming, it would appear, before all the profit could be shown from one's labor. These onions, exhibited by Mr. F. E. Jones, were larger than the top of a tea cup and were produced, as every one knows, with mighty little rain.

Helping The Other Fellow.
There are a few people who are sold to the idea that Bryan's future greatness is in direct proportion to the progress of agriculture in Brazos county, and these men and women are willing to do all in their power to lend assistance in making both town and county prosperous, but to make the greatest progress all must be sold to the idea. One "knacker" can hinder the progress of a dozen good men. One "fire bug" can destroy in one night the work of a hundred good carpenters for a whole year. So it is in all life's work. We can help or we can hinder; we can boost or we can knock. The little Jap speaking at the Methodist church recently said his opinion of all Americans was changed when his hat, quickly blown from his head, was kindly handed back to him by a stranger—an American. The little things we do and say will help some other one farther along life's way, whether it be the making of a better life or boosting for a better agriculture.

Standing of Contest Entries.
Entries in the Cotton Contest last Saturday at noon had reached a total of 3,356, an increase of 206 over last week's total of 3,150. Gregg county continues to head the list with 236 entries. Other high counties are Rusk 183, Harrison 132, Smith 130, Hopkins 112, Cherokee 74, Leakey 70, Anderson 68, Nacogdoches 65, Bowie 65, Navarro 59, Titus 56, Comanche 52, Wood 50. Contest Endorsed By Jardine.
A letter of indorsement of the "More Cotton on Fewer Acres" contest from Secretary of Agriculture William M. Jardine, Washington, D. C., and of the four-year program of agricultural development by the Dallas Morning News and the Semi-Weekly Farm News in co-operation with the Extension Service of the Texas A. and M. College. The letter follows in part:

"I have been advised of the contest being conducted by The Dallas Morning News and The Semi-Weekly Farm News, as a part of a four-year program of agricultural development for Texas, having for its object an increase in the acre yields of cotton, the reduction of cotton acreage and the planting of feed and food crops on the land released from cotton. The importance of establishing a well-balanced system of farming in Texas is recognized and a properly regulated contest that will stimulate competitive effort and attract general attention to results that may be obtained by improved cultural practices with cotton and other crops should be of great value.

"This department is always interested in any program that has for its object the improvement of agricultural crops in the United States and we are always glad to encourage competitive contests and to co-operate in making them a success. Very truly yours, (Signed) W. M. JARDINE, Secretary."

Big Meeting Been Planned At Tabor For Friday Night

On next Friday night at the school auditorium at Tabor, there will be a joint meeting of the Tabor Welfare Club and the Boys' and Girls' Agricultural Club, to enjoy a program which is to be put on for the occasion. The feature of the evening's entertainment will be an address by Rev. R. L. Brown on "Community Ideas, Ideals, Community Spirit and Community Standards". The program will begin at about 8:00 o'clock.

Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Fish of Benton, Illinois, arrived in Bryan today for a visit to their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Fish, who make their home in the Edge apartments. Rev. and Mrs. Fish have been spending the winter in San Diego, California, and are en route to their home in Illinois and stopped over to visit Bryan. Rev. and Mrs. Fish will leave Bryan Saturday and will be accompanied home by their daughter, Mrs. Fish and son, Hamilton, Jr.

H. T. Adams, salesman for the Apex-Rotax Electrical Appliances, who was in Bryan for some time connected with the Haswell Book Store, agents for these products, arrived on the early morning train and brings reports of heavy rains in East Texas, particularly around Nacogdoches where for several days it rained nearly a quarter of an inch every afternoon. He said that he went to Port Arthur and took the rain there with him, but he might be in error on that as Port Arthur is visited by frequent rains anyway and some of them real heavy ones too. Mr. Adams expected to leave tonight for Navasota to work the territory between Bryan and that city.

Milk-Grading Ordinance Discussed

A representative body of Bryan citizens gathered at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Friday afternoon at two o'clock, meeting with representatives of the Federal and State Health and Sanitation Departments on the sale of milk in Bryan and the grading of all milk sold by local dairies, same to be marked with the grade.

The first speaker was Leslie C. Frank of the United States Public Health Service. He first took up the different ways in which diseases could be transferred through milk and told how they could not be combatted, then leading up to ways in which a large percentage of diseases could be prevented.

Tuberculosis in cattle was the first subject taken up and the accepted remedy discussed as the means of preventing the spread of the great white plague to people from T. B. infected cows of the dairy herd. Next came typhoid fever, which is spread through milkers or others who come in contact with the milk and who are carriers of typhoid fever.

Seven Show Records.
"Altogether," said Mr. Frank, "42 epidemics from typhoid fever and other diseases were reported to the U. S. government as having been caused by milk last year. Because of this great number of epidemics," he continued, "the government had decided that it would be necessary to design a milk ordinance which the cities of the country could pass and thereby reduce the amount of disease and death being spread through impure milk."

Mr. Frank stated that the public health service at Washington had designed a milk grading ordinance which would cause the grades of the milk to be shown on the caps of the bottle, so that the housewife would be able to tell which was safe milk and which was unsafe milk. "This grading ordinance," stated Mr. Frank, "has

(From Friday's Daily)
Something over 300 Masons from Calvert, Hearne, Bremond, and Bryan gathered in the Masonic Hall of the A. F. and A. M. lodge rooms at Franklin last evening and witnessed the degree team from Bryan confer a Musical Masters' Degree, after which a luncheon was served in the rooms downstairs, consisting of barbecued beef and pork, cakes of various kinds, cold drinks, etc., at which time the brethren mingled together in friendly intercourse and spent a pleasant half hour in brotherly association. Flowers for the occasion were furnished by the Eastern Star while they were responsible for the pastry and contributed largely to the preparation for the occasion.

About forty-five Bryan Masons attended the initiation which many of the visitors reported to have been the most impressive they had ever beheld. J. W. Hall, the Worshipful Master, G. A. Long, the Secretary, H. E. Randolph, Pastmaster, Dr. C. A. Searcy, J. W. Payne, C. R. Gardner and other active Masons in Bryan are responsible for the large attendance. They secured cars and saw that they were loaded and checked out

(From Saturday's Daily)
Fifty-eight guests were seated at the banquet given Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the parish house when the Bryan Parent-Teachers Association entertained the Senior Class and the High School faculty. The long table, in "L" shape, was laid in snowy damask and the "green and white" of Bryan high school was emphasized in silver baskets of white water lilies, placed at intervals, and a rope of feathery fern leaves running from one basket to the next, throughout the center of the long table. Green candles in silver candlesticks and low bowls of sweet peas added another touch of beauty.

The officers and members of the advisory board of the P.-T. A. met the guests in the auditorium, where first welcome was given, and where the boys and girls were formed into couples to march to the dining room. Slips of paper were distributed and by matching names, the couples were formed. These names were again found on the place cards at the table, and proved an enjoyable feature. Captain John Smith was seated by Pocahontas, George Washington by Martha Washington, Hiawatha by Minnehaha, and "Pa" Ferguson by "Ma" Ferguson, and so on, the entire length of the table, where the senior class was seated. The faculty and the members of the P.-T. A. were seated at the other side of the table.

Music was enjoyed throughout the evening, furnished by members of the junior class with Mrs. Roy Danforth at the piano. Those assisting with the musical program were Misses Kate Parker, Mary Jones, Rachel Hampton and Louise Martin.
Mrs. Albert Buchanan was now been adopted as standard by eight states of the union, one of the first of those being Texas, and in these states, almost 50 cities have enacted the standard ordinance into law.

"Seven of these cities," said Mr. Frank, "have now enforced this standard ordinance long enough to show results, and in these seven cities the improvement in milk safety has already been 79 per cent, according to the official government method of measuring milk sanitation, and in addition the citizens of these cities are now drinking almost one third more milk, largely because of their increased confidence in its safety."

Dairymen Want It.
Mr. Frank then pointed out that this increase in milk consumption made this movement, spreading so rapidly in the United States, just as valuable, to the dairy interests from a dairy point of view, as it is to the consumer from a health point of view.
"The U. S. Public Health Service," said Mr. Frank in closing, "would probably publish annually an accredited list of cities which would include the cities enforcing their ordinances so that the traveling public and industries looking for new locations, could be assured of a safe milk, and could be assured of the truth of the labels upon the bottle caps. Mr. Frank closed by stating that in less than a year 12 Texas cities have passed this standard ordinance."

The next speaker on the program was H. W. Haskell, city veterinarian of Beaumont, Texas. Beaumont, is one of the cities which have already passed the standard ordinance recommended by the government. Dr. Haskell stated that Beaumont had made an enormous reduction in their infant death rate and had found that milk consumption had increased 50 per cent. He further stated that a large majority of the dairymen in Beaumont were heartily in favor of the ordinance as it prevented the next speaker was Dr. H. O. Sappington, State Health Officer. He pointed out that many other commodities were being graded, such as apples, wheat, corn, oats, cotton, etc., and he could see no reason why milk should not also be graded. The State Department was prepared to assist cities of small financial means in carrying out the provisions of the standard ordinance.

Chairman Henderson then asked how much it would cost the city of Bryan to carry out the standard ordinance. His question was answered by State Sanitary Engineer V. M. Ehlers, who said that Bryan was so fortunately situated that the cost of it would be practically nil. The inspection work could be done by the regular sanitary inspector employed by before leaving Bryan, while Messrs. Hall and Long remained until the last to make sure that none of the Bryan Masons were left behind who desired to make the trip.

Dr. C. A. Searcy, who acted as Worshipful Master, conferred the degree and delivered the lecture in his usual impressive manner. In fact the Bryan Masons feel that they have a Master on the team second to none in the State. His knowledge of the work, he being a three-year certificate man, his walk before his brethren and his impressive delivery form a combination difficult to surpass in any section of the country. G. A. Long, who took the part of the leading ruffian, and is also the director of the team, was exceedingly impressive in his work and the same things are true of him which have been recorded concerning the Master. H. E. Randolph, led the twelve Fellowcrafts and J. W. Payne was Senior Deacon. Both are three-year certificate men and their lives are well known to Bryan Masons while their delivery was good, all of which are necessary to the best work on the degree team.

Among the entertaining features of the occasion was the quartette composed of: Dr. E. P. Humbert, R. R. Rush, L. E. Dowd, O. A. Ashworth and W. M. Brown, pianist. Their son about Jonah swallowing the whale created much laughter and applause while their songs rendered during the ceremony were exceedingly impressive and appropriate to the initiation. The visitors were profuse in their praise of the quartette as well as the work of the degree team and urgent invitations were heard on every side requesting the team to return, also a number of brethren from other lodges expressed a desire to have the Bryan team visit their lodge and confer a degree.
Several brethren responded to calls for short talks, among them were J. W. Hall, G. A. Long, Dr. C. A. Searcy, P. S. Parks and Dr. C. Hoyle, and their remarks received warm applause.
Joe Reed, the Worshipful Master of Patrick Lodge No. 359 A. F. and A. M., of Franklin, presided and gave Bryan team and visitors a warm welcome and thanked them profusely for their work, while Brother Lloyd of Franklin welcomed the team on behalf of the Franklin lodge and paid a

Bible Class Will Hold Its First All-Day Meeting

The Bryan Bible Club, in regular session last night at the Carnegie Library where we meet every Monday night, studied "The First Sin of the Early Church," T. A.; Mrs. Egbert Jones, the incoming president; Mrs. W. S. Howell and Mrs. C. A. Searcy, members of the advisory board. Those who responded to the above toast were Lila Graham Bryan, James Pipkin and Vera Ramsey for the senior class, and Miss Reigel for the faculty. Four delicious courses were served to the following guests: Misses Lila Graham Bryan, Nancy Moore, Loree Harrison, Lorraine Cox, Lucile Henshaw, Vera Ramsey, Alta Williams, Lella Fay Mathis, Annie Outlaw, Arlie Wilson, Nina Ferguson, Johnnie Sabo, Maude Jones, Edna Earl Cummings, Erin Jolly, Elliott Beason, Merle Henry, Laura Lee Bird, Annie Ruth Tobias, Inez Etheridge, Vivian Conlee; Messrs. James Pipkin, Vergne Adams, Dave Bunting, Ned Scardino, Richard Grant, Lynnwood Boyett, Robert Wilcox, Stuart Cole, George Martin, Raymond Mathis, Paul Beard, Johnny Konecny, Albert Nedbal, Allen DeMaest, Raymond Roy, William Minkert, Henry Weaver, E. E. Dunsby, Leonard Johnson, Superintendent Madison Johnson, Hall, Miss Wexa Weddington, Miss Hyman, Miss Harrison, Miss McCarty, Miss Reigel, Miss Racey, Mr. Baltzar, Mr. Vaughn, M. E. glowing tribute to their work. The team and visitors returned to Bryan about 1 a. m., tired but happy and all agreed that it has been one of the best trips it has had in their pleasure to make. Truly the Franklin brethren know how to entertain and make you feel that the latch string hangs on the outside.
The Bryan team is composed of the following members: Dr. C. A. Searcy, W. M. S. C. Hoyle, Sr. W. J. Hall, J. W., Dr. D. H. Reid, Treas. C. R. Gardner, Sec. J. W. Payne, Sr. D. R. Stubblefield, J. D. S. A. Noble, S. S. Gordon Stevens, J. S., H. D. Wilson, Tyler, W. F. and S. F., while H. E. Randolph, P. S. Park, chaplain, W. L. Hohn, S. F., while H. E. Randolph, M. S. Hulls, and Ray Williams, C. F. Ayres, A. S. King, H. N. Bell, J. J. Ledbetter, C. H. Jones, and several other members took important parts throughout the ceremonies of the evening.
Cars were furnished by Dr. C. A. Searcy, P. H. Clark, Dr. E. P. Humbert, C. H. Jones, C. F. Ayers, Chas. Hillier, O. A. Ashworth, C. R. Gardner, G. A. Long, H. E. Randolph, while A. S. King secured a car for the occasion.

It is a complete education within itself and the rule and guide of right living, and the lesson of last night was but to show that the same selfishness that prevailed in earlier times is the same sin that is causing so much dissatisfaction in the world today.
It was announced last night that the first all-day meeting of the club would be held Saturday, May 23rd, at the First Christian church through the courtesy of the church officials in permitting the use of the building for this strictly non-denominational Bible conference. The first address will be at 10 a. m. and a detailed program will be announced later. A number of out-of-town parties will be present, including several couples from Houston, and special music will be presented. Plan to bring your dinner and enjoy the Bible feast.

Selecting Best History Essay Is Quite A Task

The date for receiving manuscripts in the history contest being conducted by L. S. Ross Chapter, U. D. C., of this city, closed May 15th. The committee in charge is delighted with the contributions, there being quite a large number of essays submitted. The trouble now will be to decide the winning essays as all are splendid and most interesting.

Mr. Ehlers points out that the inspection work would not require a great deal of time on the part of the local inspector, inasmuch as most of the history and many intensely interesting stories of the Civil War which have never been in print, have been brought to light through investigations made by the girls and boys writing essays for this history contest. These essays submitted are numbered as they are received, and the corresponding number together with the name of the writer, in a sealed envelope, will not be opened until the committee has made its decision upon merit alone. The prize winning essay will be read on the official program at the meeting of Hood's Brigade in this city during the month of June, and the writer of the essay will also be given a gold medal. The local chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy is proud of every essay submitted and will treasure them as bits of valuable history and interest.

His headquarters will be in College Station and he will have general supervision of extension work in about 20 counties in this section of the State."

Club Notes and Farm News by County Agent C. L. Beason

People's Well-Being.
In a letter expressing regret at not being able to attend the recent county-wide club meet, Director T. O. Walton of the Extension Service pays the following tribute to boys' and girls' club work: "May I depend upon you to express to the boys and girls that assemble on that occasion my deep regret at my inability to be with them on this occasion? There is no work that challenges the best, there is in men and women to a greater degree than the boys and girls club work that is being conducted by the Extension Service of this institution. My constant hope and prayer is that we may always prove wise and worthy leaders of these young men and women that we may so direct their energies whose lives we touch may prosper and prosper by our teaching and our efforts." Say, club members, "fifteen" for Director Walton. No people can ever go very far wrong in following the leadership of a man whose heart throbs for the well-being of the common people; for the boys and girls on the farm.

Market Infertile Eggs.
Now that the breeding season is over why not "swat" the rooster, or take him off the poultry yard, in order that none but infertile eggs may be produced for the market? Infertile eggs are better and they keep better; they command a better price in all homes looking for quality food products. When the producer helps to create a demand for his products he is lending assistance in creating a better market. This is the case when the poultryman offers only infertile eggs to the local trade, or buying public. When you offer fertile eggs for sale, you may rest assured that many such eggs will reach the consumer, if not the local grocer, in a condition unfit for use, thus lessening the demand for eggs and helping to break, instead of make, the market. Quality products, tastefully packed, will tend to create better markets, while poor products, carelessly prepared, will tend to lessen the demand.

Onions Raised In Drouth.
F. E. Jones of Route 5 was marketing some very fine onions a few days ago, notwithstanding the unprecedented drouth, and remarked that such onions were bringing on the local market $3 a crate. Mr. Jones states that under favorable conditions 300 crates per acre can be produced. Of course, it is not likely the price would be as good as it is now, at least the consumer might hope for it to be less, but the margin would be a good deal of trimming, it would appear, before all the profit could be shorn from one's labor. These onions, exhibited by Mr. Jones, were larger than the top of a tea cup and were produced, as every one knows, with mighty little rain.

Helping the Other Fellow.
There are a few people who are sold to the idea that Bryan's future greatness is in direct proportion to the progress of agriculture in Brazos county, and these men and women are willing to do all in their power to lend assistance in making both town and county prosperous, but to make the greatest progress all must be sold to the idea. One "knocker" can hinder the progress of a dozen good men. One "fire bug" can destroy in one night the work of a hundred good carpenters for a whole year. So it is in all life's work; we can help or we can hinder. The little Jap speaking at the Methodist church recently said his opinion of all Americans was changed when his hat, quickly blown from his head, was kindly handed back to him by a stranger—an American. The little things we do and say will help some other one farther along life's way, whether it be the making of a better life or boosting for a better agriculture.

Obituary.
In memory of Andrew Marvin, the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Tadlock, of Bedias, Texas, who was called home April 20th, 1925. Marvin was born January 25th, 1909. He is survived by father, mother and three brothers, and a large number of relatives and friends of Bedias, Shiro and Bryan. He was a great grandson of Mr. and J. N. Thomas of Shiro, Texas.
Now dear father and mother
No longer for your boy weep;
He is up in Heaven
Only for a short time to sleep.
Brothers be ready for this meeting
When you hear the midnight cry
For our Savior will be coming
On the clouds up in the sky.
Now to his school chums
And Sunday school mates
Get ready for this meeting
Before it is too late.
Dear Marvin, we will live without you
But sweet thoughts of you shall rise
Gladly we'll welcome the day
With no parting in the skies.
"Amid a loving, sorrowing crowd,
In an icy calm you lay;
You looked so young and tender
We could not feel 'twas clay.
But it was dust that formed the frame
Where dwelt the soul we love,
God in pity laid His claim
